HOTEL HORROR.

Destruction of the Leland at Syracuse, N. Y., This Morning.

Several of the Guests and Employes Lose Their Lives.

The Magnificent Structure a Mass of Smouldering Ruins—Rapid Spread of the Fire From the Kitchen to All Parts of the Building—Narrow Escape of the People in the Hotel—Harrowing Scenes—Women Threw Themselves From the Windows—A Woman Perishes in the Flames in Sight of Hundreds of Horrified Onlookers—The Lists of Killed and Injured—The Building a Veritable Fire Trap.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 16.—The splendid Leland Hotel lies buried in its own ashes, and the prophecy of hundreds, who viewed the building in the course of construction, that it was a fire trap, has been woefully verified. To give an adequate description of the horrifying scene of its destruction, which began at 12:45 o'clock this morning, would be impossible. To those first on the scene the cries of the poor wretches doomed to death by the slow torture of fire were blood-curdling. The cries of "See him jump!" and "There's one burning!" coming repeatedly from the throats of the spectators, only added to the intense agony of the scene. The streets were filled with people escaping barely with their lives, bringing tales of horror of those left to their fate within the burning building. It seemed an interminable time before the Fire Department could get a stream to play upon the flames. Hoarse cries of men and skrieks of women filled the air as they would appear for a moment at the windows of the upper stories and fall back exhausted. The tales of hair-breadth escapes by those who did succeed in getting out would fill a volume. The New York Central Depot, Congress Hall, the Globe Hotel, the Vanderbilt House, the Mansion House and every available place was turned into an infirmary for the care of the injured, and a refuge for those who came out of the dreadful holocaust alive. Lewis Leland, proprietor of the Ocean Hotel at Long Branch, who has been visiting his cousin, Warren Leland, Jr., in this city, was the first to discover the fire. He was going from the office at 12:45 o'clock this morning, when he noticed a light through the cracks in the door opening into the stairway which led to kitchen and store-room above. Opening the door he saw that the upper end of the stairway

WAS IN FLAMES,

and he quickly closed the door and ran back into the office, calling to Night Clerk Porter B. Jones and John Bridgman to give an alarm. Mr. Bridgman rang the electric alarm that rings a bell in every room in the house, and Mr. Jones sent an alarm of fire to the telephone office. In the meantime, Lewis Leland and the elevator boy, Henry Roecher, had run up-stairs and dashed through the halls, calling to the guests to get out of their rooms. Clerk Bridgman joined in giving the alarm through the halls, and Clerk Jones kept at work on the fire alarm. In less than a minute, however, the entire northwest corner of the building was afire, and all efforts of the hotel employes to check the progress of the flames were unavailing. Even before a majority of the guests were awake, the light shaft in the center of the building was burning, and, there being no opening at the top, the only descent was through the windows of the rooms opening into the well. The flames licked up the window sashes and gaining headway into four rooms in each floor at the same time the fire swept through the entire building. Scores of guests who had been awakened by the crackling of the flames or the ringing of the electric bells rushed out of their rooms into the halls only to find them full of smoke. Some of those who got out of their rooms just succeeded in escaping by the staircase. P. B. Brayton of this city was in a room on the fourth floor. He was aroused and quickly got into some of his clothes and went down the staircase

THROUGH CLOUDS OF SMOKE,

breathing through a wet sponge that he put in his mouth. The halls were filled with cries and shrieks of frightened men and women. Although the gas was burning in all the halls the light could not be seen more than a few feet off on account of the smoke. Dozens of women and men who had fallen on the floor and stairs overcome with the intense heat and smoke were dragged to the exits. Capt. Quigley of the night watch had responded to the alarm of fire with about twenty-five men, who did excellent service in rescuing guests. In less than ten minutes after the alarm had been given the rescuers were driven from the inside of the building and the only means of assistance was from the outside. On the outside panndemonium reigned. Spectators glanced at the burning structure for an instant and then turned away sickened. Shrieks still filled the air when the office was abandoned to the flames. In a window in the fifth story on the northeast corner a man and woman were seen struggling in each other's arms. The wife seemed to make strenuous efforts to hurl herself from the casement and the husband appeared strongly to oppose her awful purpose. Below them was a sea of fire, tongues of flames which framed the window wherein they stood. A piteous wail from the throats of the throng finally told the story that the couple had ceased their struggles and had fallen back exhausted to be

CONSUMED BY THE FLAMES.

Even before these two were lost sight of, a woman scantily clad appeared at a window but one floor below them, to mutely appeal for assistance—a plea that seemed in vain. Her courage was remarkable. She waited and called for help. Once or twice she climbed upon the casing as if to jump, and the crowd turned their eyes away with horror. But she stood fast. Either from fear or a gain of courage, she crept back from the casement and into the room. Every effort was made to reach her with ladders, but all were ineffectual. Again the firemen tried to throw a stream of water to her that she might gain refreshment from it, and that the flames might be stayed somewhat in their course while further efforts were being made to reach her. The scene at this time was but a repetition of others equally horrifying on every side of the building. At last, after the brave struggle she had made, the woman fell back without hope. Frenzied people crowded to the windows crying for help. The Hayes truck was run up to the building and an attempt made to hoist the ladder. There was a hitch in the machinery of the hoisting apparatus, which made a delay of several minutes. At one window of the sixth floor were three women, employes of the hotel. They were Miss Walker, a pantry girl, and Madeline Hennessey, the linen-room girl, and her sister, Lizzie Hennessey, a chambermaid. The three women rushed to the window, threw their arms about each other and

CALLED FOR HELP.

Behind them the crowd on the street saw the flames. A hundred voices from the street called to them to be quiet till a ladder could be placed, but the Walker girl suddenly stepped into the window sill and with a cry, "I'd rather be killed than burned," threw herself out into the street. She was killed by the fall. The Hennessy sisters crouched into the room and a moment later they were rescued by the firemen, who carried them down the ladder in their arms.

At a window on the fifth floor two women screamed for help. The big ladder was at another window and the jumping net was brought out. One of the women, Bridget Doyle, jumped before the net was got into position. She struck on her head and shoulders and was dead when she was picked up. She was a hotel employe and her home was in Marcellus. Mary Padden, a laundry girl, jumped from a rear window and was killed. The time finally came when the cries were hushed and nothing could be seen in the great structure but seething, moaning billows of fire as they mounted above the highest cornices and made the stars in the sky look dim.

Wm. T. Grover, acting manager for Cora Tanner, who was filling an engagement at the Jacobs Grand Opera-house, was with the company, nearly all of whom were at the hotel. He tells a connected story of how narrowly all escaped. The people occupied rooms on the third and fourth floors.

MR. GROVER SAID:

"Nearly if not all the young ladies of Miss Tanner's company had retired, but several of the gentlemen were still out when the fire broke out. I threw a few of my clothes and personal effects into my trunk, but lost them in the end. I was on the fourth floor. Among others on that floor was Miss Ada Dwyer of the company. We met in the hall and started in the direction of a fireman's voice, who was showing frantic men and women the way to the stairs. We got separated in the crowd in the halls, where the scene was an awful one. The gas must have been put out by the dense smoke, for the halls were soon in total darkness. I did not see Miss Dwyer again till we met on the ground floor. I lost all of my personal effects except my watch and money."

Regarding Miss Tanner, Mr. Grover said: "As soon as Miss Tanner was aroused she rushed into the hall. The door of a gentleman's room near by was open, and she rushed in with the shout, 'For God's sake save me.' The gentleman was about to lower himself by the fire escape, but stopped and adjusted the escape to Miss Tanner. He lowered her to the ground and then followed. Miss Tanner was not seriously injured, but the palms of her hands were cut and lacerated by holding so tightly to the rope. Miss Tanner saved her jewels and $500 in cash and valuables, having gobbled them up hastily, thrusting them into a jewel case and tied it about her neck."

Miss Dupree and Miss Klein, both of the same company, had narrow escapes. They were on the fifth floor and would doubtless have perished had it not been for the courageous boy who ran the elevator. They grouped around the hall till they heard a shout to come to the elevator. They followed the sound of the voice and found the car. They were taken down safely, although the flames shot into the elevator at nearly every floor.

The following is a list of the killed:

ANNIE CUMMINGS, servant, city, died in the patrol wagon. Her skull is supposed to have been fractured and both knees are crushed.

THE GLOBE ON FIRE.

Just before 6 o'clock this morning a telephone alarm was turned in. Word quickly spread that the Globe Hotel was on fire. The gas was lighted and the windows raised in nearly every room on the Salina street side of the Globe building. The guests were all aroused and in a few minutes the halls were filled with men, women and children, some half dressed, but the majority in their night clothes. Some were routed out for the second time, having been in the fire at the Leland Hotel. The firemen strung two lines of hose through the office and up a back stairway to the kitchen, where the flames gaining considerable headway in the ceiling and on the two sides of the big refrigerator. Some woodwork was chopped away and the fire was soon put out. The shaft was badly burned on the inside from top to bottom. The fire extended from the shaft along the ceiling to the east corner of the room where the refrigerator stood. It gained good headway between the ceiling and the tin roof, a space of about two feet. With lively work the firemen soon had it under control.

NARROW ESCAPES.

The scenes and incidents of the fire are almost numberless. R. E. Johnston of New York, manager for Ovid Musin, the celebrated violinist, was around at 4 o'clock this morning wearing one man's trousers, a second man's coat and a third man's battered and worn hat. His coat was of the style worn by the New York Central road's trainmen. The only thing that he wore of his own were his cork leg, patent leather shoes and night shirt. Mr. Johnston lives in Brooklyn, but has an office at No. 148 Fifth avenue, New York. George Burrows, the son of the Superintendent of the Western Division of the New York Central Road and manager of the Buffalo Printing Ink Co., was in room No. 116 when he was aroused by smoke and flames bursting through the door. He threw his valise out the window and uncoiled the escape rope. In an instant he swung out for life, as he says. As he did so a woman came whirling through the air from the floor above and went crashing down into the roof below and was killed. "Just at that moment," continued he, "there was a hitch in the rope and it would not uncoil any further. The flames were shooting out of the window above. Instantly the rope burned in two and I fell to a roof. I struck on my right leg and jarred my back so that I could not move. My hands were very badly lacerated."

THE HOTEL.

The Leland Hotel was completed about three years ago. It was built by George Everson, who died before it was fully finished. The building was six stories in height. It was about 200 feet square, and was situated on the west side of South Franklin street, and along West Railroad street on the north and West Fayette street on the south. The building cost about $150,000 aside from the hotel furniture, which is owned by Warren Leland, Jr., the proprietor of the hotel. On the death of Mr. Everson the property descended to his daughters, Mrs. Geo. F. Leonard and Mrs. A. N. Lewis, who still own it. The hotel was one of the most complete in its appointments in the country. There were 189 separate rooms in which 250 persons were accommodated. It was furnished with fire escapes, call bells, fire alarm bells, steam heating and electric and gas lighting. There was a back stairway descending from the top of the building to the southwest corner, and a front stairway winding around down to the northeast corner of the office. The elevator was also on the northeast corner. Unfortunately there were no immediately adjoining buildings upon which guests might jump in case of a fire. The Everson building towered alone and high above the surrounding stores. It was almost square in shape. The inner rooms upon every floor looked out upon a large court, the sides of which were of wood, covered with tin. On each floor there was a hall between the inner and outer rooms and extending completely around each floor. The hotel covered all of the Everson building except part of the first floor. There was a large hall on an upper floor which had been used for convention purposes. The hotel was leased by Van Buren Leland and Warren Leland, Jr., about three years ago, and was opened as a hotel on the evening of May 8, 1888, when 4,500 invited guests were present. The Lelands have made a decided success in their venture, and their Syracuse hotel was fast acquiring a national reputation as one of the leading hotels in the country.

THE LOSS.

The loss to the Everson estate by the burning of the Leland Hotel is estimated at $80,000. The block was insured for $60,000. The loss to Van Buren and Warren Leland on furniture is about $30,000, on which they carried $20,000 insurance. Newton & Hickok, druggists, carried a stock valued at $6,000, which was insured for $3,500. M. A. Shumway, dealer in butchers' supplies, was partially insured. The Curtis Manufacturing Co.'s building on West Fayette street, separated from the hotel by an alley-way, was wrecked by falling walls. The company dealt in oils and mill supplies. Their loss is estimated at $5,000, fully covered by insurance. The American Express building just north of the Leland was partially destroyed by falling walls. The loss is estimated at $4,000. The personal losses of guests will be considerable. These will fall most heavily on the regular boarders, all of whom had their apartments handsomely furnished.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPES.

Terrible Explosion of Molten Metal in a Steel Mill.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 16.—There was an explosion at the Otis Steel Works, corner of Lake and Lawrence streets, at 5 o'clock this morning, and how more than 200 men escaped being blown to atoms, will always remain a mystery. As it was, but three were injured and those not seriously. They were John McCarthy, Patrick O'Donnell and Patrick Bolan. In one corner of the building was situated the converter, filled with molten metal and immediately under it was a pool of water. The vapor and heavy atmosphere made it almost impossible to distinguish anything and McCarthy, who had charge of the converter, neglected to turn off the stop cock and a moment later, four tons of metal were precipitated in the water. There was a loud report and the molten metal went in all directions. Though 200 men were working near by only three were injured. The building was badly wrecked.

Visiting Iron Mines.

ASHLAND, Wis., Oct. 16.—The European iron men now visiting Lake Superior mines are at Ironwood to-day. They will spend most of time in the Norrie mine of the Gogebic range, the largest producer of iron ore in the world. The estimated output of the Norrie for this year is 900 tons, of the Gogebic range 2,600,000 tons and of the entire Lake Superior District 9,000,000 tons.

Mother and Child Drowned.

MARINE CITY, Mich., Oct. 16.—Mrs. William Wellhausen and her 7-year-old son were drowned in a well at their home, five miles west of here yesterday. The boy fell into the well by accident, and the mother, hearing his cries, grew frantic. She plunged into the water and was also drowned before help came. Mrs. Wellhausen was 46 years old.

The Otterville Train Robbery.

BOONVILLE, Mo., Oct. 16.—Wm. Cohertz, who was arrested by Detective Dickey as one of the Otterville water-tank train robbers, was before a Justice of the Peace yesterday for preliminary examination. Only part of the evidence was heard and an adjournment was taken for ten days to secure the testimony of a jail companion of Cohertz to whom he is said to have made a confession.

The detectives are divided in this case. Dickey thinks he has one of the robbers in Cohertz. Detectives Tutt and DeLong believe they have the robbers in Huffman and Hines, and all detectives are agreed that there is no connection between Cohertz and the other two. The latter will have their preliminary examination on next Wednesday.

WILL NELSON RUN?

His Answer to Be Given This Evening or To-Morrow.

Ninth District Democrats Fear That His Acceptance Will Defeat Cobb.

Chas. F. Joy Accepts the Eighth District Republican Nomination — Sterrett's Resignation Officially Filed by Secretary Lesueur — Prosser's Ratification Meeting To-Night and the Speakers Wanted to Assist Him—Cost of the Eighth District Primary—The Union Labor Squabble — General Political News.

Mr. N. O. Nelson is still waiting to be officially notified of his nomination for Congress in the Ninth District by the free trade advocates who circulated the petitions to secure the placing of his name on the ticket. Until he receives the formal notification he will not definitely state whether he will allow his name to remain on the ticket or not. Considerable interest is centered in his decision, as it will undoubtedly have considerable effect on the race between Cobb and Prosser. The supporters of the Democratic candidate appear to be more afraid of Mr. Nelson's candidacy than Prosser and his followers. The Democrats reason that if Mr. Nelson allows his name to stay on the ticket he will get the entire free trade vote, which would otherwise go to Cobb, who stands committed to a platform of tariff for revenue only, and they argue that the free traders would vote more in line with their views if they would lend their aid to defeat the candidate who is forced to applaud the McKinley bill and the entire record and platform of the Republican party.

Late this afternoon Mr. Nelson said that he had not received the notification and would persist in refusing to tell what he proposed to do until he was officially notified of his nomination.

President Hoffman of the Single Tax League, who has taken a prominent part in the circulation of the petitions to have Mr. Nelson make the race, said to-day that the committee would notify Mr. Nelson before many hours had elapsed.

NELSON, FIRST; COBB, SECOND.

When asked if he had any assurance that Mr. Nelson would make the race he replied in the negative.

"What will the free traders do if Mr. Nelson declines to permit the use of his name?" was asked.

"If Mr. Nelson should decline, and we hope that he will not, I guess we will have to lend our support to the Democratic nominee, inasmuch as he favors a lower tariff than the Republican candidate."

The committee in charge of the notification of Mr. Nelson's nomination decided this afternoon to wait on the nominee this evening. Mr. Nelson is expected to give his answer early to-morrow.

Joy Will Make the Race.

The Eighth District Republican leaders have found a candidate to take Sterrett's place in the person of Chas. F. Joy. At its meeting last evening the nomination was tendered Mr. Joy and this morning he consented to take it and make the race. It was given out early yesterday afternoon that Mr. Joy was in the lead, but there was some doubt then on the score of his accepting it. When the committee met last night it was decided to give it to him, the organization having an assurance that he would not repeat the Sterrett performance.

Chas. F. Joy.

When asked this morning if he would make the race Mr. Joy replied that he would. He received a number of congratulations and guarantees of support from friends and the Republican leaders told him he could carry the district. His nomination is attributed largely to the efforts of Mr. C. H. Sampson. Ever since the declination of Mr. Sterrett, Mr. Sampson has been a pronounced supporter of Mr. Joy. He was not certain that he would make the race, however, until last evening. Mr. Joy was one of Mr. Sampson's warmest supporters in his candidacy for the Mayoralty in the spring of 1889, and now he proposes to give him every assistance in his campaign. While Mr. Joy is a staunch Republican it is only during the past few years that he has taken an active part in politics. He is 40 years of age and has been a resident of the city for the past thirteen years. He was born in Jacksonville, Ill., and spent the first twenty years of his life on a farm. He received his early education in the common schools, and then went to Yale College, where he graduated in 1874. He studied law and adopted it as a profession. He stands well as a member of the bar, and has been prominently identified with the Elks Club and lodge ever since he came to the city. He resides at 520 North Vandeventer avenue, and has his office in the Laclede building.

WILL STERRETT PAY?

The Eighth District Republican Committee will, it is understood, call on Mr. Sterrett to pay all the expenses of the primary election and convention. The members insist that inasmuch as he accepted the nomination when it was tendered him he should pay these bills instead of Mr. Joy, who was selected to fill the vacancy caused by his withdrawal. Mr. Joy's assessment will be in the neighborhood of $3,000 and he will, the bosses say, pay it without a murmer.

Mr. Joy said emphatically to-day that he never sought the nomination and never paid a cent to anybody in connection with it. "So far as Mr. Filley is concerned," he said, "I have not seen him for two years."

A Careful Registration.

It was reported to-day that Recorder Williams was having the registration canvass made by United States Supervisors who were appointed by Supervisor Smith. The statement was that Mr. Smith had permitted Mr. Williams to name the Democratic supervisors while he chose his own for the Republican side, and that when these men had been sworn in as supervisors, Recorder Williams swore them as Deputy Recorders and sent them out into the precincts to revise the registration.

Recorder Williams was seen and when asked if this statement was true he said:

"Oh, no indeed. That plan was thought of, but it was found that the duties of the supervisors at the polls on election day would not permit it. I wanted the men who did this work to act as the clerks on election day, and I am having the work done by the men who will act as clerks, or some of the men, rather, for they have not all come in to do the canvassing. The canvass is the most thorough and complete that has ever been made here. The men were furnished cards bearing the names of the registered voters and addresses. These were arranged in order according to streets and they were started out. All they then had to do was to go to the house indicated on a card, satisfy themselves that the man whose name that card bore lived there, and if he did, sign the card and turn it in. In this way I had a separate report on every voter. When a person had left the city or removed it was so stated on the card and all those cards were separated from the others. The removals have all been drawn off on sheets of paper so that the Board of Revisors will have them in a complete and concise form. I tried to have each precinct which have been canvassed by a Democrat checked up by a Republican, but I couldn't do that, so I required the canvassers to make affidavit to the returns in addition to the oath they took when they started to work. When the canvass has been completed every registered name will have been investigated and we will know positively who is entitled to vote."

Reply to Blake.

The Executive Committee of the Stebbens-Holland-Curley faction of the Labor party has framed a reply to the charges made against them by W. H. Blake, who yesterday resigned from that organization. The substance is as follows:

In reference to the card and remarks of W. H. Blake, we desire to say that the Union Labor Central Committee has received no resignation from that person, but we do not doubt the genuineness of the publication as it is in keeping with the — like nature of the * * * to throw a bad odor on the party and on the people he has * * * all the time he has been living off them. He came to St. Louis almost a pauper two years ago on his way to Indiana under engagement to speak for the Democratic party and has been living high ever since through the efforts of outside persons who have tried to keep him on top in the Union Labor party as their * * *. He would have been fired out before now, only it leaked out a few days ago that he was negotiating with the Democrats to go on the stump in their behalf. He now claims to be a Free Trader, and we were only too anxious for them to have him and others like him who have the * * * name of labor and have been thrown out of all labor organizations for their connection with the attempted appointment of Detective Furlong last year.

"As to his statements regarding the committee, it is an untruth, as neither Swaine nor Holland nor any one else to our knowledge ever received as much as $1 from Mr. Filley or any other person to carry out any deal, and the working people can see now the reason why the fight for purification should be made in the party so it could have its ticket printed under the Australian system.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE UNION LABOR PARTY.
FRED SWAINE, Chairman.
JOHN O. LEE, Secretary.

Sterrett's Resignation Filed.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Oct. 16.—The long promised resignation of Frank M. Sterrett as the Republican nominee for Congress in the Eighth District was received by the Secretary of State this morning. It is as follows:

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 15.

A. A. Lesueur, Secretary of State, Jefferson City, Mo.:

DEAR SIR.—Yours of the 6th at hand, notifying me that my certificate of nomination as Republican candidate for Congress in the Eighth Congressional District of Missouri has been received and filed. This is to notify you that I hereby withdraw from such candidacy. Very truly, F. M. STERRETT.

The document has been acknowledged in due form before W. C. Bull, a notary Public of St. Louis. The Secretary has not received any official information as to the nomination of Chas. F. Joy to fill the vacancy. He says that section 4766 of the Australian law gives him power to file Mr. Joy's certificate of nomination when presented in the proper legal form.

THE O'MALLEY CONTEST.

It is the general opinion here that the O'Malley-O'Neill contest pending before the Supreme Court will never be determined. The court offered to hear the case Wednesday, and the Attorney General was ready, but Mr. Rowe's determination to have six days' time resulted in the State asking for a longer lease, which practically means no determination at all. A pretense will be made of keeping up a contest, however, although it is almost a physical impossibility for the court to reach a determination prior to the day of election, even if all parties are ready to go to trial.

Prosser Sang for Them.

The Twenty-seventh Ward Republican leaders were regaled with a banquet a few nights since at Delegate Charles Sievers' place out near King's highway and Manchester road, and from all accounts some of the workers in that section are somewhat exercised because they were not invited. The candidates present were Thomas J. Prosser, the candidate for Congress in the Ninth District, Recorder Hobbs and Thomas B. Rodgers' the nominee for Circuit Clerk. A feature of the banquet as told by one who was there, was the singing of Candidate Prosser, who has started out to make a campaign of song in earnest. As one of the guests put it, "Prosser may not be a good speaker, but he is certainly a good singer."

Cost of the Eighth District Convention.

The State Democratic Committee to-day figured out the expenses of the primary election which was held in the Eighth District to settle the O'Neill-O'Malley trouble and found that the entire amount reached $211.75. This includes all the bills and there were from two to three polling places in every ward in the district. When one of the congressional committees starts out to assess candidates for an election and convention of this kind it rarely asks less than $1,000 and very frequently more. The result of the State Committee's action shows rather forcibly that candidates have been taxed rather severely by the congressional committees to pay the so-called legitimate expenses of the primary elections and conventions.

Assignments for the Governor.

The Executive Committee of the State Democratic organization met this morning and arranged a few appointments for Gov. Francis. He will make his first speech at a rally in Cole County, Oct. 23, and will then go to Aurora Springs, when he speaks the day following. His other appointments are: Canton, Oct. 27; Unionville, Oct. 28; Chillicothe, Oct. 30; Maysville, Oct. 31; Gallatin, Nov. 1, and Marble Hill, Nov. 3. From Marble Hill Gov. Francis will come here to vote.

Prosser's Ratification.

The Ninth District Republicans will ratify Prosser's nomination at Uhrig's Cave Hall this evening. The meeting has been arranged by the Congressional Committee, of which Michael Foerstel is chairman and J. D. Foulon, secretary. The following have been invited to speak: Congressman F. G. Niedringhaus, Emil Preetorius, ex-Lieut.-Gov. E. O. Stanard, Col. D. P. Dyer, Chas. Parsons, Nathan Cole, D. T. Jewett, John D. Stevenson, W. S. Pope, Leo Rassieur and Matt G. Reynolds.

It was the understanding this afternoon that more than a few of the invited speakers would decline to attend.

Clashing Union Labor Factions.

The so-called "anti-boodle" ring of the Union Labor party has been holding secret meetings during the past few evenings at 614 Market street. These meetings have been attended by Mortimer Shaw, Phil Coghlan, Garland, Nolan and others who are opposed to the Curley-Holland-Stebbens combination who made the deal with the Republican bosses and expect to be made State Senators in return. The opposition factions are arranging to have a mass-meeting of the Union Labor voters at Central Turner Hall on the evening of Oct. 25.

Political Notes.

To-night the Twentieth Ward Cleveland Club will have a meeting at 3408 Lindell avenue.

The Democratic ratification meeting which was to have taken place last evening in Lucas Square was postponed on account of the threatening weather until to-morrow evening. All the Democratic Congressional candidates and other speakers will be present.

The suit of Frank O'Donnell vs. L. J. Kane, a railroad contractor, for wages amounting to $40, comes up before Justice Fechte to-day.

The Board of Registration met Tuesday, and will meet again on the 28th inst. to revise the lists. There are a large number of new voters here who are yet unregistered.

The Merchants' Bridge people yesterday purchased the John Sippy tract of about fifty acres, lying between the St. Louis & Eastern and the Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis railways. The price paid is said to be $300 per acre. The land will be used for yards and switches.

Arrangements for the celebration of the first anniversary of the organization of Venice Lodge, No. 358, A. O. U. W., are complete. The celebration will occur Saturday evening at Brathuhn's Hall. Among the visitors who will be present and deliver addresses are C. R. Watson of Chicago, Grand Master Workman and Sheriff of Cook County; United States Marshal C. P. Hitch of Springfield; Grand Recorder, Dr. J. L. Million of Springfield; Grand Medical Examiner L. L. Troy of Chicago, and Past Grand Master Workman Orendorff of Springfield. The members of St. Clair Lodge, No. 277, and East St. Louis Lodge, No. 294, will attend in a body. After the meeting a banquet will be served.

Last evening a young railroad brakeman named Welch applied to Justice Fechte for a warrant for the arrest of a young lady, for assault with intent to kill, and in reply to questions from the Justice explained that he was a boarder at the boarding-house of the young lady, and last evening was engaged in telling a story which was objected to by another young man. Thereupon Welch wanted to know how this young man would feel if he had to swallow his objections, a remark which aroused the ire of the young lady, who is a special friend of the aforesaid young man, and she proceeded to show her feelings in the matter by soundly slapping Welch's face, and, as he alleges, attacked him with a knife. The young lady's mother joined in the fray, and amid a fusilade of glass tumblers and sauce bottles, Welch beat a hasty retreat to the protection of the Marshal. No warrant has yet been issued.

DAVE HENNESSY DEAD.

NEW ORLEANS' CHIEF OF POLICE MURDERED ON HIS DOORSTEPS.

The Crescent City Startled by a Terrible Midnight Tragedy—Capt. O'Conner's Statement of the Affair—No Clew to the Murderers—Police Officers Within Hearing at the Time of the Tragedy.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 16.—Shortly before 12 o'clock last night Chief of Police David C. Hennessy was shot down by three men near the corner of Basin and Grand streets. He was shot four times and will very probably die. His assailants, who are unknown, escaped.

CAPT. O'CONNOR'S STATEMENT.

Capt. William O'Connor of the Boylan Detective Police, and the Superintendent's chosen and trusted friend, makes the following statement regarding the shooting of Chief of Police Hennessy last night:

"We left the Central Police Station about ten or fifteen minutes past 11 o'clock. We walked up the Woods side of Rampart street to Girod, where we parted, the Chief saying: 'Don't come any further with me now; you go on and look after your business.' As we parted the Chief walked toward Basin street, taking the down-town side of Girod street. I took the up-town side of Girod street and walked out in the direction of the river. On my way I met a city policeman and a Boylan officer. I had just reached the corner of Dryades and Girod streets when I heard a loud report of a shotgun and turning quickly around and looking toward Basin street I saw the flashes and heard two more loud reports. The flashes came from the front of the two-story frame house at the up-town river corner of Girod and Basin streets. Almost simultaneously with the reports of the shotguns, three or four pistol shots were fired in quick succession from the south side of the street. These last reports must have been the chief's return of the murderous fire. I at once started on a quick run toward Basin street, two blocks distant, and on my way, overtook Officer Colton of the Boylan Protective Police, of whom I inquired:

Which way did they run?

He replied: 'I believe it was up-town.' Five or six people were then on the street in our vicinity. I heard the Chief call, "Oh, Billy, Billy." I hurried towards the spot whence the cry came and found the Chief sitting on the door-step of a house on Basin street, between Girod and Lafayette streets. As I came up he said to me: "They have given it to me, and I gave them back the best I could.' Bending over the Chief I said to him: 'Who gave it to you, Dave.' He replied: 'Put your ear down here.' As I bent down again he whispered the word, 'Dagos.'"

The tragedy was one which the Chief and his more intimate friends had regarded as within the range of probabilities for some years past, and for two or three years he has always been accompanied by some trusty friend on his way home. Last night he walked to the door of his residence, and pausing a moment to draw his latch-key from his pocket, turned into the doorway. It was while in this position, his side turned towards the assassins, that the first two shots—the weapons being double barreled shotguns and one barrel of each being fired at a time—rang out. As quickly as the ambushed men could cock the guns the second barrel was fired.

WORKMEN BURIED UNDER SEVERAL TONS OF HOT COKE.

Two Men Taken Out Alive but Burned Beyond Recognition—Five Hungarians Roasted—Other Workmen Still Buried Under the Avalanche of Coke—The Injured Men Taken to Hospitals.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 16.—A boiler explosion occurred a few moments ago at the blast furnace owned by Moorehead & McLean on Second avenue. Eight men are reported fatally burned and have been taken to Mercy Hospital.

LATER.

The report that a boiler explosion had occurred at Moorehead & McLean's Second Avenue Furnace was a mistake. The destruction of property and serious and probably fatal injury to seven or more employes is, however, great as had an explosion occurred. At 1:30 o'clock a gang of men were engaged in blowing out one of the large iron furnaces preparatory to making repairs. The bridge in the furnace stack fell down, allowing several tons of almost white hot coke to fall, completely

BURYING SEVEN WORKMEN.

Edward Hughes and his brother were taken out alive, but burned almost beyond recognition. They cannot possibly recover. Five Hungarians, names unknown, were also rescued. They were terribly roasted. The injured men have been removed to hospitals. It is now reported that other workmen are buried under the avalanche of hot coke and have not been rescued. The hospital ambulances have returned to the scene of the disaster.

The Bauman Divorce Case.

The divorce case of Frederick Bauman, Jr., vs. Minna O. Bauman was further heard by Judge Kline to-day. The defendant was on the stand this afternoon and recited at some length the story of her marital woes. The mother, Mrs. E. H. Oliver preceded her on the stand and some tetimony as to morphine eating was elicited. The testimony was expected to be interesting in so much as two men had been mentioned in the case, but little was developed with regard to either that was good, bad or indifferent as effecting either side of the contest.

Mary A. Brauer, whose husband, John Henry William Brauer is a cook in Hotel Moser, was given a divorce and permission to resume her maiden name. She charged Brauer with marrying her under a fictitious name, making her a party to his amours and conducting himself somewhat indecently. He did not deny the charges.

Circuit Court Notes.

Annie E. Fries, who married John E. Fries thirty years ago in Philadelphia, applied to-day for a divorce. The cause set up is desertion. Mr. Fries went away in November, 1887, and has since remained away.

Pauline Williamson, married to Peter J. Williamson on Aug. 16, 1887, to-day applied for a divorce, charging cruel and barbarous treatment, improper intimacy between her husband and another woman.

Joseph Baum & Co. and Rothschild Bros. brought suits against E. T. Anderson in Dunklin County on account. The suits were brought to the St. Louis Circuit Court on change of venue.

THREATEN TROUBLE

Scotch Home Rulers Protest Against the Indifference of Liberal Leaders.

Persian Soldiers Driven From the Frontier by the Russians.

Russia's Intention to Straighten the Frontier—Nicolai's "Christ Before Pilate"—The Montreal Press and the Comte de Paris—Against the Hebrews—Emperor William a Busy Man—Banker Miller's Creditors—Wreckage Coming Ashore—The Cession of Kassala—Dillon and O'Brien in Paris—The Socialist Congress—Hospitals in Africa—Foreign News.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—The Scotch home-rulers are much dissatisfied because of the indifference of the Liberal leaders to their pet scheme. They have addressed protests on the subject to Mr. Gladstone and others, and threaten to make trouble for the party in the next elections, unless the principle for which they are contending receives official recognition in the Liberal platform.

The Socialist Congress.

HALLE, Oct. 16.—At to-day's session of the Socialist Congress the discussion of the Socialist programme, which yesterday was marked by the display of an acrimonious spirit on the part of the participants, continued. Herr Bloss contented that the question of religion should not be permitted to endanger the future of the Socialist party. It must, he said, be treated as a private matter which affected the conscience of the individual alone. The party, Herr Bloss added, should be especially tenacious in adhering to this course whenever and wherever it found itself compelled to combat the adherents of the Roman Catholic Church. Herr Ruedt argued that Socialists should follow the developments of science, accepting only the truths which were revealed by its always brightening light. The whole question of religion, he asserted, should be ignored by the Socialist party, which should press onward in its propaganda regardless of any religious sect or sentiment. The position taken by the last speaker was assailed by Herr Wolkenbahr, who declared that a social or economic agitation which it should be attempted to conduct while ignoring the church would be absolutely worthless. Herr Metzner said that though he was himself free of religious feeling, still he could not but deprecate any attempt to change the programme. In discussing the purely economic questions which have been before the congress from time to time during its deliberations, Herr Metzer spoke at some length in condemnation of the productive associations.

Canada and the Comte de Paris.

MONTREAL, Oct. 16.—The Citizens' Committee which was appointed to draw up a programme for the reception of the Comte de Paris, held a well-attended meeting yesterday in the rooms of the French Chambre de Commerce and formulated a programme. Among other things is a banquet to be given at the Windsor, which will undoubtedly not be a success. The Republicans are making more noise and doing less work than the monarchists and as the proprietor of St. Lawrence Hall refused to allow a counter demonstration to be held in his place, they will have to go to an East End third-rate hotel and it cannot amount to much. Ex-Mayor Beaugrand is still determined to carry out his programme, however, and he says he does not think the Comte will dare to come, but that if he does, he will regret it. He will call a meeting of Frenchmen and cable resolutions to President Carnot expressing their friendship for the Republic. La Patrie has a series of most violent articles against the Comte de Paris, the Duc d'Orleans and the entire Orleanist family. It uses abusive epithets and dubs the Comte as "The Heir of the Regicide, Philippe Egalite," and of "The King of the Barricades, Louis Philippe." It adds that the true nobility of France have only the deepest contempt for him and that he is not deserving of the reception which is to be tendered him. It derisively calls the Duc d'Orleans "The Duc d' La Gamelle."

They Want Husbands.

MONTREAL, Oct. 16.—The impression has gone abroad that the Mayor of Montreal is a matrimonial agent. Some weeks since the Mayor received a letter from a bachelor in the West, asking him to send to Arizona young Canadian women who wanted husbands. The Mayor's reply that he did not keep a matrimonial agency got into the press, and now he is receiving letters from young marriageable women in France and England. No less than three came to hand yesterday. The first is from Marseilles. The fair writer says she is ready to come to Montreal and then go West. All she asks is money to pay her fare and she will leave at once. The two other letters are from London and are written by an Anglo-Irish girl and a French girl. The former says she is 20, of graceful proportions, with dark and expressive eyes, and she is willing to send her photograph in exchange to any young man who means business. The French girl says she is 24 and would like to marry a man of 30 or 40. According to her modest pretensions, her only attractions are a tall, elegant form, dark hair and dark eyes. She promises to be a good wife and is willing to exchange photographs.

To Save Birchall.

LONDON, Ontario, Oct. 16.—A petition to the Governor-General praying that the sentence of death passed upon Birchall, who has been convicted of the murder of F. C. Benwell, be commuted, is being circulated here for signatures. Reports from Woodstock say Birchall is working most industriously on the sketch of his life and expects to have it completed within a week. The manuscript will cover about one hundred pages of foolscap. The first part, which is already written, contains an account of some of the most interesting incidents of his early life, youthful escapades, narrow escapes, etc. What his account of the last year or so of his life and the incidents associated with it will be, it is impossible to say. He is at present in negotiation with a number of publishers who are willing to put the sketch in print and pay him for it. Whatever sum he receives for the sketch he intends handing over to his wife.

Nicolai's "Christ Before Pilate."

BERLIN, Oct. 15.—A sensation has been aroused here by the exhibition of a new pictorial representation of "Christ Before Pilate." The painting is by a Russian artist, Nicolai. Its powerful realism may be inferred from the fact that scores of women have fainted at the sight. The picture, though horrible, is strangely fascinating and the salon where it is displayed is continually crowded to suffocation. The subject is treated from an entirely different conception to that of Munkacsy in his famous painting bearing the same title. The work is pronounced by critics to be vastly inferior to the latter in a purely artistic sense, but yet to possess a remarkable power which can hardly be attributed to simple realism.

The Cession of Kassala.

PARIS, Oct. 16.—The Journal des Debats, referring to the statement published by the Italian newspaper Popolo Romano, saying that the negotiations between England and Italy regarding the delimitations of the Red Sea territory had been broken by the protests of France to Lord Salisbury against an Italian occupation of Kassala, says it is useless to contradict such a ridiculous story. Italy knows, the Journal says, that France regards with satisfaction the civilizing explorations of Italy and has no interest to serve by opposing the cession of Kassala to that power.

Russia and the Chinese.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 12.—Prince Mestchersky, in the Grashdanin, reproaches the Novoe Vremya for attempting to create Chinese ill-feeling, which he says will be a terrible thing for Russia. The Prince urges his countrymen to be guided by two principles—first, the adoption of a policy that will pacify China and avoid provoking their national revenge; and second, the cultivation of everlasting hatred of the Hebrews to prevent them from penetrating Russian life and attaining their principal aim, the destruction of the Orthodox Democracy of Russia.

Emperor William a Busy Man.

BERLIN, Oct. 16.—The Emperor William proposes to devote more time to the work of government, and especially to the army. In order to do this his sister, the Princess Victoria, who is to be wedded soon to Prince Adolphus of Schaumburg-Lippe, will be expected, after the honeymoon, to take up her abode with her husband, in Berlin, and relieve the Emperor and Empress of a considerable share of the social duties now performed by them.

Wreckage Coming Ashore.

HALIFAX, Nova Scotia, Oct. 16.—Reports from the north side of Prince Edward Island, say the recent storm there was the heaviest for years. Wreckage is coming ashore at Malpeque, evidently from a vessel that has been lost. The schooner Corporal Trim, which left Chatham, New Brunswick, last Thursday for Malpeque, has not since been heard of and has doubtless gone down with all onboard.

Miller's Creditors Mourning.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—The number of victims of William W. Miller, the alleged swindling banker, increases. It seems that many people on the continent as well as in London, were tempted by the promise of enormous interest to intrust their funds with Miller and his partner, and are now mourning the result of their credulity.

Russians on the Persian Frontier.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—Advices from Persia by way of Constantinople represent that the Russians are encroaching on the Persian frontier, and have driven in a body of Persian soldiers stationed on the frontier near the River Aras. It is supposed to be Russia's intention to straighten the frontier of Trans-Caucasia, whether Persia likes it or not.

Against the Hebrews.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—Russian newspapers continue to publish articles, officially inspired against the Hebrews. In one of these it is urged that Hebrew jurymen and members of the bar should be sworn on the Pentateuch, and not on the Bible, as they do not consider the latter oath binding.

Cape of Good Hope Bank.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—The liquidator of the Cape of Good Hope Bank, which recently suspended, has made his report. It shows the net minimum deficit to be £464,000. The report says that an assessment upon the shareholders of £30 per share will be necessary.

Imperial Remains Removed.

BERLIN, Oct. 16.—To-day the coffins containing the remains of the late Emperor Frederick, Prince Waldeman and Prince Sigismund were removed from Friendesenkirche at Potsdam and placed in the new mausoleum at that place.

Beat Her Own Record.

SOUTHAMPTON, Oct. 16.—The Hamburg-American Packet Co.'s steamer Columbia, which left New York last Thursday at 2 p m., reached this port at noon to-day, making the trip in 6 days, 15 hours and 23 minutes, and beating the best record (her own) by 2 hours and 11 minutes. This equals about 5 days and 23 hours to Queenstown

M. Naquet's Address.

PARIS, Oct. 16.—In an address to his constituents in this city last night M. Naquet declared that he intended to continue his endeavors in the Chamber of Deputies to secure a revision of the constitution without the co-operation of Gen. Boulanger, whom, he said, he had abandoned. The meeting adopted a vote of confidence in M. Naquet.

Hospitals in Africa.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—The Berlin correspondent of the News telegraphs that a conference will soon be held at the Foreign Office in regard to the question of establishing a hospital in Africa. Emperor William favors the erecting of the building on the mainland, while others, including the head physician of the East Africa Co., prefer Zanzibar as originally intended.

Dillon and O'Brien.

PARIS, Oct. 16.—Messrs. O'Brien and John Dillon, who succeeded in evading the Irish police last week with the intention of proceeding to America to lay the cause of Ireland before the people of that country, and who arrived at Cherbourg yesterday, reached this city this morning.

AN INTERESTING RELIC.

A Hand Fire Engine at the Exposition Which Has a History.

There is an interesting relic of the old hand fire engines in the basement of the Exposition Building. It was built in Philadelphia in 1836 for the Central Fire Company, No. 1. When the steam engines were brought to St. Louis it was sold to a Belleville (Ill.) company. After that to one at Mount Olive, Ill. A few months ago it was bought by Charles P. Chouteau and presented to the Volunteer Firemen's Historical Society, whose name it now bears. Several hundred dollars was expended to beautify it and it presents a handsome and artistic appearance and calls to mind many scenes of the times when the boys now gray ran with the old machine. It is surmounted by a life-sized cast of a fireman dressed in a costume which is forty-five years old. It consists of white duck pants, pale green flannel blouse and broad, black leather belt, with a deep collar finished with silver fringe. In the right hand a handsome blue satin flag is held, finished with gold fringe, presented by Miss Lynch, daughter of Thomas Lynch, President of the Fireman's Historical Society. Several arm chairs are placed around the engine, bearing the names of old fire companies, many inscribed with mottoes. Helmets and firemen's hats are arranged about the machine which were won by the volunteers. Charles P. Chouteau, Sam Hawkins, Edward Brooks, Joseph Boyce, James Luthy, B. H. Donoven, Thomas Lynch, Richard Howard, are represented. It is cared for during the day by an old fireman, Moses B. Croft, and evenings by detailed firemen of the old volunteer companies.

FIGHTING FOR A CHILD.

A CASE IN A CINCINNATI COURT IN WHICH ST. LOUISANS FIGURE.

Commencement of Proceedings To-Day—Pretty Eva Virgien's Hard Fate—Her Father in Jail, Her Mother an Abandoned Woman and Her Aunt and Adopted Parents Waging Legal Warfare About Her.

An interesting legal fight for the possession of a little girl, whose father is now in the St. Louis Jail, charged with embezzlement, is going on to-day in the Common Pleas Court of Cincinnati.

The child is little Florence Eva Virgien, and she has begun life under a cloud so lowering, owing to the misdeeds of both parents, that her story and future fate are bound to possess the most pathetic interest. Her father, F. W. Virgien, an ex-officer of the Hanoverian army during the Franco-Prussian war, has in the three years he has been in this country become an apparently irreclaimable criminal, having already served one term in the Missouri Penitentiary for forgery, and now being held for a second similar offense of embezzling money from a St. Louis firm employing him in a clerical capacity. Her mother, following the father's disgrace, has sunk to the level of a woman of the town, and little Florence, thrown on the world at the age of 10 years, has been adopted by a family named Koch.

She has, however, come into a legacy of about $4,000, left her by her father's mother, and the habeas corpus proceedings opening in Cincinnati yesterday, were instituted by an aunt, Mrs. Charlotte Virgien of Brooklyn, N. Y., who seeks to recover possession of the child from the Kochs. The little girl also wants to be taken care of by her aunt, but it is charged that the Koch family desire to keep her, in hope of securing control of her inheritance.

THE MEETING IN COURT.

Little Florence was taken before Judge Bates yesterday, and the parties striving for her possession met for the first time in the court-room. Mrs. Charlotte Virgien is a richly attired lady, of evident refinement and wealth, and has taken apartments at the Grand Hotel. The Kochs are comparatively humble people, the husband, L. L. J. Koch, being a druggist at Eighth and Baymiller streets in this city. Before the case opened the little girl and her aunt met in the office of Attorney Thomas, and a most affecting scene ensued, both aunt and niece weeping with joy at the prospect of being united. It was evident that a strong affection existed between them. Koch, however, claims to be able to exercise some peculiar influence over the child which, he says, will always enable him to control her actions even at a distance.

Mrs. Virgien yesterday told the story of little Florence Eva Virgien as she had known it for the past four years, and made public the following pathetic letter received from the little girl last August, the letter being the first intimation to the aunt that her niece was still living, word having reached her at one time that the child was dead.

A PATHETIC LETTER.

EVENDALE, O., Aug. 28, 1890.

DEAR UNCLE—I once more write to you and have something to tell you. I want to tell you that I am alone in this big world. When we were living in St. Louis a man by the name of Mr. Koch came and adopted me. He lived in Bond Hill and took me to his home. He had a wife and three children. At first his wife was very kind, but after awhile she commenced to get unkind and cruel and made me do all the work. So I made up my mind to leave there and find another home, which I did.

I wrote to mamma and my letter was returned. So I wrote to some neighbors around where she lived, and they said they had not seen her. So, after I heard this the people I was living with found me and took me to their home again. I stayed there one week and I went away again, and I don't want to go back again to them, but they have moved to New Washington, I don't know what to do. I am staying with some kind people in Evendale. Dear uncle, I only wish I could live with you again. Dear Aunt Lottie, I often think of her and Emma and the boys. Kiss them all for me ten times. Your little niece,

EVA VIRGIEN.

Don't forget to write and answer this letter. Please don't, dear uncle. Address in care of Mr. J. L. Pfeiffer, Evendale, Hamilton County, O.

Following this touching appeal from from the little girl Mrs. Virgien received a letter from Mrs. Pfeiffer under date of Oct. 8 also telling of Eva's troubles. Mrs. Virgien immediately started West, and is determined to gain possession of her lonely little niece and shield her future from such grief and hardships as she has known in the past. Mrs. Virgien draws a black picture of the character of the girl's father, and says he has been a disgrace to his family for years. She also denied the story that Eva was an heiress.

THE CHILD'S STORY.

The child herself tells a story that touches the hearts of all who hear it. She charges that while living at Bond Hill, Koch and his wife were most cruel, frequently beating her brutally with a horse whip, and that finally to escape from them she ran away. In her lonely flight she wandered for five miles across fields and through woods, until at last she came to the C., C., C. & I. tracks. She was able to climb on the platform of a freight car and thus rode some distance, but getting frightened she jumped off. Walking along the track, stumbling and staggering from fatigue., she fell through a trestle and severely injured her foot. Reaching the house of the Pfeiffers at Evendale, above Lockland, the little runaway was given shelter, but at the end of a week she was found by a family named Teppe, friends of the Kochs, who notified the latter, and Koch got out a writ of habeas corpus, and the child was surrendered to him. Eva ran away at another time, coming to Cincinnati, where she applied to a Mrs. Lilly, on Richmond and John streets, for something to eat. She showed great welts upon her arm which she said were caused by the horsewhip wielded by the Kochs. She was taken from Mrs. Lilly by detectives and again restored to the Kochs.

Public interest in the case is strong, and while both sides claim that they are acting out of sympathy and charity for the little girl, the popular desire to see her given to her aunt, Mrs. Virgien, is plainly apparent, even in the court room during the progress of the trial.

A SCENE AT BIDDLE MARKET.

A Young Thief Picks a Woman's Pocket and Is Chased by Capt. Kiely.

While Capt. Kiely was walking through Biddle Market about 7:30 o'clock, on his way to the Fourth District Station, at Tenth and North Market streets, he discovered a young man running rapidly up the street, with a crowd in hot pursuit. The Captain joined in the chase and succeeded in bringing the fugitive to a halt. Mrs. Annie Schubert, living at 1708 North Thirteenth street, soon came up and complained that while standing in one of the stalls her pocket had been picked and a pocket-book containing $2.95 stolen. Capt. Kiely searched the prisoner and found the exact amount on his person. The pocket-book, however, was missing. A few minutes later it was found underneath the stands in the street where it had been thrown. When taken to the Fourth District Station the prisoner was recognized as Mike Mack, a young hoodlum well known to the police in the northern part of the city. Mrs. Schubert went to the Four Courts and swore out a warrant charging Mack with petit larceny.

ASSAULTED BY WORKMEN.

Discharged Employes of a Factory Beat One of the New Men.

Recently the firm of J. Murphy & Bro. have been employing a number of Bohemian workmen in their wagon manufactory at 1333 North Broadway. In this way the German mechanics were thrown out of employment and considerable bad blood was engendered. Yesterday evening as Charles Tocstin, living at 1728 South Tenth street, was on his way home from the shop he met several of the discharged men on South Broadway. With an oath Joseph Onkelmetz set upon the unfortunate Bohemian and knocked him to the sidewalk. While he was down Onkelmetz kicked his victim several times on the head and face. Tocstin showed a badly bruised body at the Four Courts this morning, and was given a warrant against Onkelmetz for assault and battery.

Mr. and Mrs. English Remarried.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Oct. 16.—Arthur English of St. Louis was remarried to Mrs. Lucy B. English of Chicago here yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. English were married once before. They were divorced and subsequently a circular making serious charges against Mrs. English was distributed broadcast through the country. Mrs. English charged her former husband with being its author. He denied this and offered to marry her whenever she became convinced he had not written the circular. Recently she accepted him and the marriage has occurred. They left last night for the North and will arrive in St. Louis Friday morning.

Mr. English came to this city about one year ago and was engaged on a morning paper until a few months ago, when he went into the office of a well-known real estate firm as salesman. A telegram was received from him this morning saying he would return to-morrow morning.

Inquiring After Her Brothers.

This morning Chief Harrigan received a letter from Mrs. L. McNaughton, of 53 North Swan street, Albany, N. Y., requesting his assistance in locating her brothers, John and William Paley. Mrs. McNaughton says the men were working at their trade as stove mounters in St. Louis five years ago, since which time they have been as lost. Last May their sister died and on Aug. 7 their father passed away. A favorite nephew is now at the point of death.

A LEVEL HEAD.

The Advantage of Presence of Mind in an Emergency.

During the late strike on the New York Central Railroad the militia were ordered to be in readiness in case of a riot, but they were not called out.

In an interview Gov. Hill said the troops were not to be called upon except in case of an emergency. The emergency had not arisen, therefore, they would not be ordered out. He remarked that this was the first great strike with which he had had experience and he did not propose to lose his head. The only point at which there had been serious trouble was at Syracuse, and there a Deputy Sheriff had lost his head and precipitated an encounter.

The strike continued several weeks, and there was a riotus action at various points along the road, but the civil authorities were able to cope with it without calling on the militia.

The test of the man's real ability comes when an emergency arises which makes a hasty call on his good judgment and discretion. The man who retains his presence of mind, maintains the equipoise and exercises sound discretion at such critical junctures, is to be relied on and will be put to the front.

Men with level heads have the staying qualities which do not falter in the face of danger. Otis A. Cole of Kinsman, O., June 10, 1890, writes: "In the fall of 1888 I was feeling very ill. I consulted a doctor and he said I had Bright's disease of the kidneys and that he would not stand in my shoes for the State of Ohio." But he did not lose courage or give up. He says: "I saw the testimonial of Mr. John Coleman, 100 Gregory street, New Haven, Conn., and I wrote to him. In due time I received an answer, stating that the testimonial that he gave was genuine and not overdrawn in any particular. I took a good many bottles of Warner's Safe Cure; have not taken any for one year."

THE STOCK BROKERS.

A Rather Bullish Feeling Prevails—General Gossip From Wall Street.

By Private Wire to Gaylord, Blessing & Co.

NEW YORK, 9 a. m.—The feeling up-town was rather bullish on stocks last evening, and it was not thought that the Bank of England rate of discount would be advanced this morning; at any rate the foreign bankers generally said so, but even if it was there was no occasion for a great alarm. Well-posted people say they believed that the sudden change for the better in the sentiment and course of yesterday's stock market was due to uniform action of certain strong operators early in the morning, who decided to turn the market, both here and in London. This movement took the bears entirely by surprise, especially those who have been taunting the bulls with cowardice and declaring that inasmuch as the short interest had early all been covered up there was nothing left to buy them upon. A prominent London banker here had a private cable from London last evening, stating that American stocks fully maintained their firmness yesterday to the very end and foreign buying was superior to selling and indicative of further improvement to-day.

CHICAGO, 9:30 a. m.—The Western Freight Association meets to-day to consider lumber rates. General passenger agents meet also to consider the cut rates of the Zoo road.

CHICAGO, 10 a. m.—Manager Chappell of the Alton says rates in the West are thoroughly demoralized and the margin between the cut rates and the tariff goes to middlemen, so that neither public nor railways are benefited. The Inter-state Commerce Commission could change all this, if it cared to; but it sits like a bump on a log and does nothing. He lays blame largely on the Atchison, which, he says, neither the law nor agreements can bind.

NEW YORK, 10:20 a. m.—The Bank of England gained 370,000 pounds of bullion this week.

WASHINGTON, 10:30 a. m.—The opinion is expressed at the Treasury that the product of the silver mines of this country for the ensuing year will exceed 70,000,000 ounces and a further decline in the price of bullion is expected.

NEW YORK, 10:40 a. m.—A temporary injunction was granted yesterday, restraining the trustees of the Sugar Trust from proceeding further with the reorganization plan. It will come up for argument, as to being made permanent next Monday.

11 a. m.—Very little doing in stock; no feature; traders inclined to cover and go long.

11:20 a. m.—Money 6 per cent.

CHICAGO, 11:30 a. m.—The Pullman annual meeting will be held at 3 o'clock. The annual report will show about 18 per cent earned on the stock, leaving a surplus of nearly $250,000. It is stated that no issue of new stock will be made to-day.

D. S. Irons Dead.

Mr. D. S. Irons, one of the most widely known live stock commission merchants in the country, died last night of consumption, after a long illness, at his home, No. 806 Brooklyn street. It was only a short time since he was attending to his business. He was 50 years of age and leaves a small family. The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon from the Cook Avenue Methodist Church, thence to Bellefontaine Cemetery. Mr. Irons had been engaged for twenty years in the live stock business, and was President of the D. S. Irons Commission Co. at the Union Stock Yards.

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking of the constitution than Catarrah. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind,—one or more, and sometimes all yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible desease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneezing, snuffling and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT and one IMPROVED INHALER; price, $1.

WE repeat our advice to every voter to vote for the constitutional amendment.

SHALL St. Louis share with New Orleans the dishonor of countenancing the illegal operations of the lottery sharks?

THE Republicans of the Eighth District who have been howling for a bar'l can hardly be expected to shout for JOY.

THERE is so much talk of "knifing" that the coming election will serve less to illustrate the influence of the Australian ballot than of "Jack the Ripper."

MR. CHARLES F. JOY, the latest Republican candidate for Congress in the Eighth District, has the honor of receiving a nomination which no one else would take.

REPUBLICANISM as exhibited in St. Louis is not calculated to make the bosoms of the distinguished representatives of the party who have visited St. Louis swell with pride.

THE McKinley bill is doing fine work for the Democrats in the Congressional campaign, but it is hardly fair for the National Congressional Committee of the party to expect it to do everything.

THE name of Cardinal KENRICK would have a pleasant sound for all Catholics in the United States, and indeed for all of every creed who honor the learning and worth of the venerable Archbishop of St. St. Louis.

TREASURER HUSTON in connection with the infamous scheme to colonize Indiana and West Virginia with negroes for political purposes indorsed a crime and committed a blunder, yet he still enjoys official existence.

WHEN it comes to nominating candidates for Congress Boss BUTLER rises above politics and is as ready to furnish the Eighth District with a Republican candidate as to furnish the Ninth with a Democratic one.

THE fact that Mr. JOY is interested with Mr. BUTLER in the Merz garbage contract shows how widespread and varied are the influences which are trying to prevent the election of a Democratic Congressman in the Eighth District.

THE Congressional Committee in Representative CANNON's district naturally refuses to remove him from the ticket at the demand of the bolting Republicans, but the object of the bolters may be effected just as well at the polls if the bolters have the courage of their convictions.

ALTHOUGH we hear of a great many papers being thrown out of the mails because they contain offers of prizes in guessing matches we notice that the Chicago Tribune is still continuing an aleatory contest of this forbidden description. We are glad that the Chicago Tribune reaches us, but we are sorry that it defies the law.

IF the President is determined not to appoint Judge GRESHAM to the Supreme Court vacancy he will find an able lawyer and a good man in the distinguished Missourian who holds the portfolio of the Department of the Interior. Missouri has never had a representative on the Supreme bench, and this is a good opportunity to give her one.

THE AMERICAN SPEAKERSHIP.

Prof. JAMES BRYCE, whose work, "The American Commonwealth," is so highly prized by all Americans who have read it, declined to write an article for the North American Review on REED's new plan of counting a quorum and revolutionizing the old established system of procedure in the House, but supplied instead an article on the Speakership and new rules of closure in the British House of Commons. As this article abstains from any direct criticism of REED and his rules, but defends the closure in the House of Commons as a necessary limitation upon purely obstructive tactics, it is seized upon by some of REED's defenders and distorted into a quasi apology for quorum counting and the "previous question" process of suppressing debate and wiping out the minority party in the American House of Representatives.

The disingenuousness of this distortion will strike every reader of the article in question. The "closure" of the House of Commons is a much milder proceeding and much better guarded against partisan abuse than our "previous question," and Prof. BRYCE lays great stress upon the marked difference between the recognized functions of the Speakership in the two different bodies. He says:

> American readers may be surprised to hear that any protection for minorities was expected from the presiding officer. In Congress the Speaker is for many purposes the leader of the majority. The majority is often advised by him; and usually reckons on him to help it to carry out its will. The hare might as well hope that the huntsman would call off the hounds as the minority expect the Speaker to restrain an impatient majority. But in Parliament the Speaker and the chairmen of committees (whom for shortness I generally include when I refer to the Speaker) are and always have been non-partisan officials. Each, no doubt, has belonged to a party and has been chosen on the proposition of a party leader. But the Speaker is deemed, once he has assumed the wig and gown of office, to have so distinctly renounced and divested himself of all party trappings, that, if he is willing to go on serving in a new Parliament in which the party to which he belonged is in a minority, the majority is, nevertheless, expected to elect him anew. Thus Speaker BRAND, although he had once been whip of the Liberal party, was re-elected Speaker in 1874 by the Tory party, which had then gained a majority, and served on till 1883. The Speaker is not permitted, so long as he holds office, to deliver any party speech outside Parliament, or even to express his opinions on any party question; and in the chair itself he must be scrupulously fair to both parties, equally accessible to all members, bound to give his advice on points of order without distinction between those who ask it. It is to this impartiality, which has never been wanting to any Speaker within living memory, that the Speakership owes a great part of the authority it enjoys and the respect it inspires."

The closure motion cannot even be voted on in the House of Commons until a non-partisan Speaker decides that its adoption is proposed only a ter full and free discussion, after the minority has exercised every right essential to fair deliberation and the proper discharge of representative duty. In our House, a Speaker chosen as the most ultra of partisans, and glorying in his reputation as the boldest and most unsparing of partisan fighters, has seized upon powers which he himself had denounced as subversive of minority rights, of free deliberation and of wholesome legislation, and has exercised those powers in a way to obliterate the opposition in the House and enable his party caucus to pass the extremest party measures without discussion and with less than a majority vote.

No legislative body in England or America was ever subjected to such a despotism until REED was made Speaker.

THE Congressional Campaign Committee of the Republican party has issued a pamphlet containing a list of fifteen great acts which are set forth as "The Republican Record Made During Nine Months of Congress." In this list are enumerated seven "laws" which failed to become laws, such as the Federal election law, the contract labor law, the convict labor law, the eight hour labor law, the uniform bankruptcy law, the Supreme Court relief law and new shipping laws—the bills for all of which are yet pending. The chairman of the committee putting forth this false list is Congressman BELDEN, whom the New York Tribune used to denounce as "the Christian Canal Ring Contractor," and as "the owner of some of the worst swindling contracts."

W. O. BARNETT, the Republican candidate for Congress in the Seventh District, declares that he is "in love with Speaker REED," that he thinks the McKinley bill "one of the grandest and most beneficial "measures for this nation ever passed by "a legislative body," and that he is "heartily in favor of the force bill." It is to be feared that Mr. BARNETT's Republicanism is of a too fervid and whole-souled character for the atmosphere of Missouri this year. If Missourians should turn the chariot of progress and drive it backward at a rapid pace he may win on this platform some time in the next century.

WHEN the old Eighth District Democratic Committee started out to run things with a high hand it proposed to levy an assessment of $3,000 on the two candidates for the congressional nomination for the expenses of the primaries and convention. According to the Democratic State Committee it cost only $211.75 to hold the primary election and convention in that district. Had the committee been permitted to carry out its grab plan, the balance over all expenses for the committee would have been $2,788.25, not counting an additional assessment for election expenses.

THE Globe-Democrat recently spoke of the Democratic Doorkeeper of the last House at Washington as a man who had stolen public money. The intended reference was to Sergeant-at-Arms SILCOTT, the embezzler and fugitive.—[Globe-Democrat.

As the Sergeant-at-Arms of the last House was J. P. LEEDOM, the Globe-Democrat will have to guess again. We would respectfully suggest, however, that in a case in which a charge of crime is involved it would be better to depend upon the Congressional Directory than the inner consciousness. According to that reliable authority "SILCOTT, the embezzler and fugitive," was the Cashier of the House.

THE report of the State Committee shows that the total cost of holding the primaries and convention in the Eighth Congressional District amounted to $211.75. Yet for this purpose the Congressional Committees levy assessments on candidates of $1,000 and upwards. In view of the facts it is not difficult to understand why places on party committees are in demand or why the political bosses are anxious to control the committees. It is a mere matter of boodle.

THE need of St. Louis for another first-class hotel was clearly set forth in yesterday's POST-DISPATCH. The present hotel accommodations are inadequate for the requirements of the city. When public interests and profit combine to invite investment there should be no difficulty in finding the capital necessary for the erection of a new hotel which will meet the demand in every respect.

Mr. Joseph Pulitzer of the WORLD was a passenger by the Teutonic, which arrived in New York Wednesday. He comes back from a long sojourn abroad with health improved and his interest in the great newspaper which owes its success to his inspiring energies unabated. His eyesight is somewhat impaired, but far from being wholly or permanently lost. It is so well preserved, at least, that he readily distinguishes the friends who in such hearty and hospitable numbers welcome his return, and is able to gaze with warrantable pride upon the splendid building that has been erected for his official habitation. Long may it stand as a monument to his enterprise and long may the proprietor survive to enjoy the magnificent prosperity which it represents.

A Master of Journalism.

From the Indianapolis News.

The report that Mr. Joseph Pulitzer of the New York WORLD has returned to this country much improved in health is good news. Few men have had a more varied career, and few men have achieved such success. But fewer men have borne the extremes of fortune with such hopefulness, indomitable spirit and modesty. Mr. Pulitzer has never forgotten his own struggles, and his hand and heart are always open in aid of others, and his friends will rejoice in his restoration to health. The great public has cause for congratulation as well, in the return of this master of journalism to the post in which he has rendered such conspicuous service.

A Neighborly Greeting.

A QUESTION OF RATES.

HOW CHICAGO HAS SECURED AN UNDUE PROPORTION OF THE GRAIN TRADE.

The Board of Trade Rules and Their Effect on the Receipts of Grain—A Conspiracy Between Certain Dealers and Eastbound Lines—Secret Cutting of Rates—A Rebellion in Chicago.

THE question of freight rates on grain to the Eastern seaboard is at present attracting a great deal of interest, and giving rise to no little feeling, both in Chicago and St. Louis, and from present indications there is more than one good chance of a rate war breaking out. Simpson L. Wheeler, a large dealer in wheat in Chicago, arrived in the city to-day and registered at the Southern. "The manner in which rates have been recently cut," said he, "has given rise to a storm among grain receivers and shippers of Chicago, and some of the railroads are as indignant as the brokers who are not inside the ring.

SECRET RATE-CUTTING.

"It has long been known that some shippers received rates lower than those granted others, but, although there was a great deal of private kicking, it was not deemed advisable under the circumstances to agitate the matter actively. Within the last week, however, the cutting has been carried to such an extent that those who have not obtained the benefit of it can do no business at all. They have therefore nothing to lose, and are now prepared to make an active and open fight to obtain just treatment. Rates on wheat have been cut from 7 to 9 cents a bushel by certain lines on grain furnished by certain firms, and those who are not in the combine can get no grain for shipment. The trouble arose when the Chicago Board of Trade forbade the issue of official quotations from the floor. This move was directed against the bucketshops, but a short experience proved that they were able to obtain continuous quotations with almost as much regularity as before, and that the only sufferers were those who desired to follow the market through legitimate channels. The effect of the withdrawal of official quotations was felt at once by Chicago grain dealers. The country shippers and the farmers had been accustomed to follow the markets and ship accordingly, and when they were deprived of the information upon which they had been in the habit of relying all who were able began to look out for new markets.

BOARD OF TRADE RULES.

"The quotations were furnished by St. Louis and at once some of the best customers of our market drifted off to this city. The loss was large, and there seemed to be every probability of its increase. There is a large section of country that wants to market its grain in Chicago at any rate, but there is a still more considerable tract that can be made tributary to St. Louis if this market can offer better facilities. So serious was the depletion of the Chicago trade that a strong movement was set on foot to rescind the resolutions, but to the surprise of the uninitiated many of those who were at first in favor of this changed front and prevented the alteration being made. Shortly afterward there was a marked increase in the receipts of grain, but only a few firms obtained the benefit of it. At once the suspicion arose that the rates were being tampered with, and a still hunt was set on foot. At first nothing was discovered, and the dealers who were left out in the cold were at their wits' ends.

THE LEAK LOCATED.

"Within the past three weeks it has been ascertained that we were looking in the wrong direction. The Western roads have been keeping their rates with reasonable fairness, but some of the Eastern lines have been cutting tremendously. New York has had as much to do with this as Chicago, and it was through that city that the break was discovered. New York receivers in buying grain insisted that it should be shipped over certain lines, principally Vanderbilt lines, refusing to purchase if this was not done. The railroads that lost their regular shippers inquired into the matter, and found that from 7 cents to 9 cents a bushel was given as a rebate. Western lines were also involved, as the feeders of the rate-cutting lines got most of the business. The withdrawal of the Alton from the Western Association has brought matters to a head. Chicago men were at first not unwilling that the rates should be cut, as grain was thus kept away from St. Louis, but since they have ascertained how much certain firms are favored there is a general desire to have matters corrected and to bring pressure to bear on the directors of the Board of Trade, which will compel them to alter their rules. St. Louis has been deprived of an immense amount of business by the secret cutting of the Chicago east-bound lines."

REAL ESTATE NEWS.

Real and Business Property Selling—Union Avenue Lots at Auction.

The real estate market was rather quiet to-day, but numerous specially noteworthy events are promised in the near future by agents who are busy with the negotiations.

Saturday next several thousand feet of the most desirable low-price Union avenue property will be offered at auction, commencing upon the premises at 2 o'clock, by the Hammett-Anderson-Wade Real Estate Co., and if their previous public sales may be taken as an indication of the outcome of this coming event every foot of the ground will be sold and somebody is going to get bargains. There is no higher ground on Union avenue than that which this firm will sell to the highest bidder next Saturday. It is as high as the site occupied by the College of the Christian Brothers, and is a locality where there has been a vast amount of building improvement lately. Every foot of the ground is ready to build on, at grade, or high enough above grade to require no cutting or filling. Some of the lots front on Theodosia avenue and some on Arlington, just one block north of the Easton avenue street car line and about two blocks from the present cable terminus at King's highway. Union avenue promises to be one of the grandest thoroughfares of the West End. At the corner of Easton ground sold a year ago at $48 a foot could not be purchased to-day for $60, and inside lots on both sides of Union, south of Easton, where there are a number of new $4,000 to $6,000 residences, were sold at $30 to $35 a foot, vacant lots adjoining them being sold now has as $45 a foot. The property north of Easton avenue is located higher and equally desirous for residence purposes, and, although lower in value now will be worth just as much money in a short time as lots farther south, where the grade is very much lower and continues getting lower down to Page avenue. No one who wants a cheap home lot in a growing locality should fail to attend this sale.

EAST ST. LOUIS.

Emile S. Guignon, who operates extensively in East St. Louis property, purchased 660x140 feet of ground over there yesterday, located on Brady avenue and Convent street. This property, running back to a 20-foot alley, is within a mile of the Eads bridge on the Venice & Carondelet Railway, now controled by the Merchants' Bridge Railway Terminal Co., a very advantageous position for warehouse or manufacturing purposes.

Mr. Guignon says he expects to sell it to a party who contemplates utilizing the property for manufacturing purposes. He bought the ground for $12,210 from the firm of McNair & Farish.

VALUABLE PROPERTY.

The property at the northeast corner of Finney and Vandeventer avenues, reported to have been sold for $43,000, consisted of well rented stores and dwelling apartments on the second floor, fronting 155 by a depth of 95 feet. The income from the premises is said to be $5,000 per annum, and that is quite likely, as the premises are located in one of the most businesslike places to be found anywhere west of Grand avenue. I tis property which certainly must enhance greatly in value, being at the north and south and east and west junction of the Lindell Electric Railway. Mrs. Cook, a resident of Bridgeton, holds the title to the property, and Mr. Ben Von Phul is said to be also heavily interested in it.

OTHER SALES.

R. S. Noonan has purchased from John McGuire 28x125 feet of ground located on the east side of Seventh street, between O'Fallon and Cass avenue, at $60 a foot.

Terry & Scott report the sale of a 25x137-foot lot on the north side of Eads avenue, between Todd and Compton, at $40 a foot from the Pomeroy heirs to M. H. Sterne, and a 25x170-foot lot on the north line of Shaw avenue, east of Macklind, for $150 to Louis T. Freund.

FRED GEBHARDT.

The Well-Known New Yorker Goes Into Physical Training.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Frederick Gebhardt has gone into physical training and expects soon to be the amateur athlete he was once. He is working under Prof. John Laflin. For the past few years Mr. Gebhardt has not devoted much time to athletic exercise, and, in consequence, has grown stout. He had been troubled with dysentery and he has had no desire to keep up those athletic feats which made him celebrated before he became prominent as the escort of Mrs. Langtry. Since his return from Europe Mr. Gebhardt has become imbued with his old-time desire to again shine as a premier shot putter and amateur pedestrian and incidentally as an expert in using boxing gloves. Three weeks ago he and Laflin went up into Pike County, Pa., and made their headquarters at a little roadside inn, where the plainest food was eaten, and there was no inducement even to mild dissipation. There was a trout brook near, and in the surrounding woods was to be had game of all sorts. Long tramps through the woods with guns and fishing rods was the daily routine. Day by day the avoirdupois of Mr. Gebhardt was reduced and his muscles increased in size and in strength. He declared he had never enjoyed himself so much before, nor felt so well. From five miles a day he soon became able to endure a thirty mile jaunt up and down the mountains without fatigue, and he declares he is to-day a better man than he has been for five years. But Mr. Gebhardt's course of training has not ended. He is again in this city, but only for a week or so, and in the meantime he will continue his exercises. While he is here his steam yacht is being fitted out for a trip to Southern waters.

"He will spend the winter in Florida," said one of his close friends last night. "I do not know the exact date of sailing, but it will be next week, probably next Thursday. The yacht must be stored, and there must be some extra guns and fishing tackle put on board. The stops will probably be at Charleston and Savannah. From there they will sail up the St. John's River. It is probable that the winter will be spent in hunting and fishing, and that the party will not return until spring."

SELECTED THE NAMES.

THE COUNCIL OF BISHOPS MEETS AND DISPOSES OF IMPORTANT BUSINESS.

The Names of Three Clergymen to Be Sent to Rome, One of Which Will Be Returned With High Degrees—Vicar General Brady Is Said to Head the List—The St. Joseph See—Other Church Matters.

THE seven bishops of this province of the Roman Catholic Church held a meeting this morning in the residence of Archbishop Kenrick and selected three names from the list of Catholic priests in the province, which will be sent to Rome and a bishop for the See of St. Joseph selected from among them.

This council or conference of the prominent officials of the Catholic Church is of great interest and importance and the result will be watched with much eagerness. The council was called to order in the Archbishop's drawing-room at 9 o'clock this morning and seated around the board were: Rt. Rev. Louis M. Fink, D. D., Bishop of Leavenworth; Rt. Rev. Henry Cosgrove, D. D., Bishop of Davenport, Io.; Rt. Rev. Thomas Bonacum, Bishop of Lincoln, Neb.; Rt. Rev. John Hennessy, Bishop of Dubuque, Io.; Rt. Rev. John J. Hogan, Bishop of Kansas City, Mo.; Rt. Rev. J. J. Hennessy, Bishop of Wichita, Kan.; Rt. Rev. Choker, present administrator of the See of Omaha, Neb., and the venerable Archbishop of St. Louis, Peter Richard Kenrick. The business before the council was not very extensive, and was finished at noon to-day, each member having been informed of the objects of the meeting, and had, therefore, come prepared to act at once. The meeting was executive, none but the officials being present.

The death of Bishop O'Conner of Omaha left a vacancy in that see, and Rt. Rev. Choker was made administrator until a successor should be appointed. A council of the consulting priests of the Omaha See was held some time ago according to the Second Baltimore Council, and at this meeting the names of three of the Catholic clery whose labors in the church and popularity would make them desirable as bishops, were selected.

THE NAMES SELECTED.

The three names selected by the council of priests of the Omaha See has been kept secret as the council of bishops is not compelled to accept them, but may on the contrary chose three other names, a privilege seldom taken advantage of, however. The bishops this morning selected three names which they will forward to the Propaganda of Rome at once as candidates for the vacancy. In presenting the list the name of the priest thought by the bishops to be best fitted for the position is denominated "dignisimus," the second "dignior" and the third "dignus." Though the Propaganda of Rome has the power to choose from the three, the recommendations of so learned a council as that which met to-day, is taken as law, and the first name given is generally accepted. It is the common belief that Vicar General Brady of this city heads the list, and Rev. Father McLaughlin of Hannibal is second, with Rev. Father Ryan of Dubuque, third. Both Vicar General Brady and Rev. Father McLaughlin have been on the list before, but neither were given first place. A recommendation from a council of Bishops if it be at the bottom of the list is no small honor, as it is considered to be but the stepping stone to greater honors. The names of the two candidates who are not selected are never made public, or at least it is not the intention that they should be.

ST. JOSEPH SEE.

Another matter which came before the meeting was the re-establishment of a see at St. Joseph. Seven years ago the Bishop of St. Joseph was called to Kansas City and was instructed to act in both sees. He has done so ever since, but the constant and rapid growth of the country has thrown more that the average amount of work on his shoulders and the appointment of another bishop for St. Joseph's seems necessary. A request to the Propagand of Rome will have to be made, however, and such a petition or recommendation was formulated this morning. There is hardly a doubt but that the see will be re-established. When this is done the priests of that see will choose three names from among their number and present them to the Council, as was done to-day. It will be several months before any action will be taken.

It has been stated that the council would apply to Rome for the establishment or opening of sees at Hannibal and Cape Girardeau. The subject was not even discussed by the bishops this morning, as there appears to be no necessity for the appointment of two more bishops for points which are but six hours' ride from this city.

The council adjourned at 12 o'clock and at 12:30 the prelates took dinner. They will remain in the city a day or so and then return to their respective homes.

This morning a warrant was sworn out at the Four Courts charging Foster Burns with assault to kill. The defendant, a negro, was arrested by Officers Keenan and Flesh of the Second District yesterday evening. About 9 o'clock Burns and Philip Rudolph happened to meet in the saloon at 2737 South Tenth street. Without any apparent provocation Burns drew a knife and cut Rudolph in the abdomen, inflicting a wound 8 inches long and 1½ inches deep.

ST. LOUIS AND MISSOURI.

A St. Louis Priest Now Prominent in the Catholic Church—Consume the Smoke.

The Chicago Times publishes the following sketch of Bishop Feehan, brother of Dr. Edward Feehan of this city and formerly a priest of the St. Louis Diocese:

"Twenty-five years ago on the 1st of November next a young St. Louis priest was made Bishop of the See of Nashville. Ten years ago Sept. 10 last that same priest and bishop, having filled that popular and important see for fifteen years, was raised to the ecclesiastical dignity of Archbishop of Chicago, with an archdiocese of material and spiritual importance among the first in the world. Archbishop Feehan has for ten years filled this exalted position with such a credit to himself as has inspired veneration for his abilities and love for his personal qualities from the subordinate ecclesiastics and laymen of the archdiocese.

"As the result of a spontaneous desire to recognize the anniversary of a most important event in the history of the Roman Catholic Church, especially of the West, and pay a tribute to the archbishop personally, several gatherings have been held to arrange for a monster celebration. It will occupy the great part of the week preceding the exact date. Only the general plans have been formulated, the details being in charge of committees of the local priests. So far as has been decided upon, the anniversary exercises will open Wednesday, Oct. 29. Pontifical high mass will be celebrated that day by the archbishop in the cathedral of the Holy Name.

"Either Wednesday or Saturday night the Archbishop will be tendered a banquet by the clergy attending the anniversary celebration. Invitations to the event, which will be made as grand and complete as possible, will be sent all the archbishops, bishops and distinguished clergy of the United States. The ecclesiastics of every degree of the province who can do so it is expected will be in attendance, as well as distinguished laymen from abroad. The local Catholic world is taking a deep interest in the success of the coming event and assure a happy entertainment to those who visit the city upon that occasion."

"Birds of a Feather Flock Together."

From the Detroit Free Press.

If you children have ever been in St. Louis, Mo., you know how smoky and sooty it is, and are sure to remember how many times a day you had to be washed. I know of one mother there who said she could not keep her children clean without using a scrubbing brush on them. I think this was rather rough on the children.

Some people say St. Louis tries to be as dingy as it can because it wants to imitate London, but I do not believe this, I think it is because the coal burned there has so much soot and tar in it.

Well, once a lady who lived a little way out of the city, where it is nice and clean, moved into St. Louis and brought among other things some of the doves from the farm, and after she had stayed in the city awhile she moved back again, taking the doves home with her. But, poor things, they were so dirty and draggled looking the other doves would not associate with them.

Either the white ones did not know their old friends in such dingy clothes and mistook them for bird tramps, or they wished them to understand the contempt they had for any feathered creature that would appear in this condition when water was plenty. They would not fight nor quarrel with them for their temper is too good for that, but when the shabby ones came near, they would move away as if afraid they might get dirty too. They refused to eat with them, even, and in a quiet and well-bred way shunned them on all occasions.

The poor outcasts (though outcasts through no fault of their own) must have felt slighted, but they bore their troubles in a meek and dove-like manner, and after awhile they shed their black feathers and got new white ones, and to their great joy were taken back into good society.

A Kentucky Criticism.

From the Chicago News

Discussing the subject of the names of cities, Mr. Watterson's paper, the Courier-Journal, says:

"Chicago was very fortunate in her name. Like most Indian titles it sounds well and is not borrowed from Europe. In fact, the name is better than that possessed by any other of our great cities."

Mr. Watterson has always managed to prove his reputation as an astute and discerning man. By the way, Mr. Watterson would have "New York" changed to "Manhattan," as more rhythmical, dignified and worthier of the city. "San Francisco" is "not bad," "Philadelphia" is "pedantic," "Seattle" is regarded as atrocious, though "Tacoma" is good. "Kansas City" is "abominable," and the man who gave the name should be burned in effigy. Mr. Watterson also thinks that there is nothing to approve in the name of St. Louis. But why particularize as to the name?

Our Citizen Soldiers.

From the Kansas City Times.

A St. Louis newspaper says some harsh things of the Third Regiment for its alleged inability to control the unruly crowd at the Union Depot on the President's arrival Friday evening. Under the circumstances the militia handled the crowd well enough, and in fact it could have done no better without resorting to force, which, the officers agree, would have been a very unwise thing.

A Sketch of "Pa" Chase of St. Louis.

From the Memphis Appeal.

Among the followers of Henry George, who assembled in New York to greet him on his return from farthest Austria, and to take part in the organization of the Single Tax men of the United States into an efficient and powerful association to spread among the people the doctrines of that great work, "Progress and Poverty," and to secure by united action those changes in the law of the land which they deem vital to the prosperity of the nation, there was one whose name was known to all, and about whom much kindly curiosity was felt. "Pa" Chase had appeared so often in the Standard, and the "Benton School of Social Science" was such a grandiloquent appellation for anything situated in the sleepy little suburb of St. Louis, that all who knew anything about the place were anxious to see its founder. And so, as soon as the chairman of the conference and the vice-chairman had returned thanks for the honors conferred upon them, loud cries for "Pa" Chase broke out all over the hall. In response thereto there appeared upon the platform a neat, dapper little old man, with a round bald head and short, gray beard, whose actions were so brisk and spirited that few could believe their owner had passed the Biblical limit of three score years and ten. With the introduction "I did not expect to be called upon on this occasion, but I have my speech in my pocket," "Pa" Chase drew out a manuscript that set the delegates laughing, and read one of the sprightliest and most enjoyable of papers read before the conference. Before the conference closed every delegate had learned to know and to love the dear old man, simple and guileless as a child, active and enthusiastic as a boy, with the energy and tenacity of matured manhood.

After reading Henry George's work, "Progress and Poverty," in November, 1887, he stuck up in Benton Railroad Station at St. Louis the following notice:

> All persons willing to join with me in the study of the problem of poverty and crime will sign their names below, and I will call a meeting at my house.
>
> PA CHASE.

In a week five names were added, Wm. H. Little, T. W. Chamberlin, J. W. Symons, H. B. Lawrence, J. M. Dutro and J. H. Hatfield. These six persons founded the Benton School of Social Science, which has held 150 consecutive meetings, besides some extra meetings at Benton Hall, and at which the five charter members have been so regular in their attendance as to win the title of "deacons of the school." The school has never had but two officers, Pa Chase, President, and Wm. H. Little, Secretary, and has never had any constitution, by-laws, initiation fee, dues or assessments, all its expenses being met by voluntary contributions from the members, many of whom are also members of the St. Louis Single Tax League. The school has given exhaustless public study and exposition of "Progress and Poverty," chapter by chapter; has distributed by hand and by mail 20,000 single tax tracts, many hundred single tax newspapers, given away sixty copies of "Progress and Poverty," fifty copies of "Social Problems" and fifty copies of "The Land Question."

"Pa" Chase individually has distributed at his own expense to legislators, ministers of the gospel, county superintendents, small farmers, workingmen and editors of country newspapers, [illegible] single tax tracts, written 250 letters of from six to ten pages upon the single tax to public writers, and sent out [illegible] personal invitations to attend the meetings of the Benton School, all [illegible] the past three years.

A MASONIC MESS.

OPPOSITION IN THE GRAND LODGE TO AN OFFICIAL'S RE-ELECTION.

The Selection of Officers This Morning—The Annual Appropriation of $5,000 for the Masonic Home—A Mason's Views on the Grand Secretaryship — Installation of Officers and Adjournment This Afternoon.

The Missouri Grand Lodge of Masons met this morning in Masonic Hall and at once proceeded to the election of officers according to the provisions in the constitution, which states that the election must occur on the third day of the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge.

The balloting for the different offices took place in the following order: Grand Master, Deputy Grand Master, Grand Senior Warden, Grand Junior Warden, Grand Treasurer, Grand Secretary, Grand Lecturer and two Grand Chaplains.

The elections in the Grand Lodge, as a general thing, are without any active display of feeling in regard to the candidates, but it has leaked out that there was great rivalry for at least one of the offices:

The officers of the Grand Lodge for the past year have been: Grand Master, Theodore Brace of Jefferson City; Deputy Grand Master, Geo. E. Walker of Potosi, recently removed to St. Louis; Grand Senior Warden, B. H. Ingram of Sedalia; Grand Junior Warden, John E. Parson, St. Louis; Grand Treasurer, Samuel Kennard, St. Louis; Grand Secretary, John D. Vincil, St. Louis; Grand Lecturer, Allan McDowell, St. Louis; Grand Chaplains, C. H. Briggs of Independence and Frederick V. Loos, Higginsville; Grand Senior Deacon, L. B. Valliant, St. Louis; Grand Junior Deacon, Champ Clark, Bowling Green; Grand Marshals, H. Pennfield, Nevada, and Wm. Richardson, St. Louis; Grand Steward Bearer, S. L. C. Rhodes, Kansas City; Grand Senior Steward James T. Dunn, Stanberry; Grand Junior Steward, W. B. Wilson, Cape Girardeau; Grand Pursuivant, E. F. Hartzell of St. Joseph; Grand Orators, P. J. Caston, Carthage, and James E. Drake, Carrollton; Grand Tyler, John W. Owen of St. Louis.

Dr. Vincil has held the position of Grand Secretary for about ten years, and at every election some candidates have been brought up against him, although no organized action has been taken to fill the position with any other candidate.

This morning a member of the Grand Lodge told a POST-DISPATCH reporter that probably the principal interest in the election would be centered in the choice of Grand Secretary, as a number of delegates had fixed on a man to run in opposition to Vincil for the office. Owing to the character of the election, however, very little was said regarding the different candidates outside the lodge room and whatever discussions were aroused during the election will not be made public.

PREPARING FOR A CANVASS.

At this morning's election Dr. Vincil was re-elected for the coming year, however, as no organized attempt was made to put any one else in the position. One very prominent member of the Grand Lodge was asked to permit his name to be used as a candidate, but he declined to do so this year, stating that in another year things might look different. The minority held a caucus, and it is said that they agreed to raise a sum of money, and before the next annual meeting of the lodge their candidate will be canvassed for over the State. One Grand Lodge member said: "The reason why we have taken no active steps at this meeting is because our candidate did not consider that sufficient preparation had been made to give us grounds for thinking we would succeed this year. The reason that we could not do so is because two-thirds of the Missouri Masons are of a certain denomination. Dr. Vincil is of that denomination and, to use a vulgar term, he has a big pull with the members of that church. In consequence of his position a large number fear to oppose him unless they feel confident that they would succeed, but we will have everything satisfactorily arranged by the next convention."

NEW OFFICERS.

The election of officers this morning resulted as follows:

Grand Master, Geo. E. Walker of St. Louis.

Deputy Grand Master, B. H. Ingram of Sedalia.

Grand Senior Warden, John R. Parsons of St. Louis.

Grand Junior Warden, Harry Keene of St. Joseph.

Grand Treasurer, Samuel Kennard of St. Louis.

Grand Secretary, Rev. John D. Vincil of St. Louis.

At 12 o'clock the morning session adjourned and the newly elected officers departed to the Laclede Hotel for the purpose of holding a caucus to decide on the elective officers, viz.: Two Grand Chaplains, Grand Senior and Junior Deacons, two Grand Marshals, Grand Swordbearer, Grand Stewards, Grand Pursuivant, Grand Orators and Grand Tyler. They also appoint a committee on foreign correspondence.

At this morning's session the annual appropriation of $5,000 for the Masonic Home was made, and resolutions were passed encouraging the work now being carried on there.

THE AFTERNOON SESSION.

At 2:30 o'clock the Grand Lodge reassembled, but the appointments had not all been prepared at the time of going to press. The only remaining business was the installation of officers, and it was announced that the work of the Grand Lodge would be completed this afternoon and an adjournment taken until next year.

The Missouri Pacific Train Robbery.

At the general offices of the Missouri Pacific nothing has been heard to-day of the reported robbery of passengers on the Omaha express near Kansas City. No telegrams had been received by General Superintendent Dickinson and nothing was known in the office of First Vice-President S. H. H. Clark. Mr. George C. Smith, assistant to Mr. Clark, is of the opin- [illegible] speaking, a train robbery, but probably the work of a pickpocket, resulting in loss to several passengers. The published telegraphic account was all the information had on the subject.

Miller, Larry Darn and Harry Knieger were released from jail, while the case against Wm. Howard was recorded as dismissed. Connor was charged with robbery in the first degree in holding up Charles H. Hawkins and stealing from his person $3. Miller and Darn were jointly charged with grand larceny in stealing a case of ladies' shoes from the George T. Ditman Boot & Shoe Co. Knieger was charged with grand larceny in stealing eight pistols from the Witte Hardware Co. Howard was charged with fraud in obtaining wine valued at $3.75 from the Southern Hotel Co. by means of false representations.

The Only McNichols.

HE HAS THE SURE CURE.

"Why, what's the matter, Dick, old boy?
I never saw you half so glum;
You look as if you had a call
Right suddenly for kingdom come.
Engaged to such a pretty girl,
I saw her last week at the ball;
You should be happy as a lord,
For she's the belle of all."

"Ah, yes!" said Dick, a sickly smile
Just fading out above his chin,
"Engaged, it's time, not married yet,
That's where the woes come in.
I've spent so much of all I saved,
I'm gloomy as a gnome,
I cannot ask my Kate to wed,
To board and have no home."

"Pshaw! Go and see McNichols, lad.
He's used to tales like that.
He'll take his payments by the week,
And furnish up your flat.
He'll put in carpets, curtain, chairs,
All that you'll need to use,
Pictures and painted dishes, rest,
Your Kate will have to choose."

"Great Scott! And do you think he will?
Then all's not lost, by Jove!
But if it were not for his plan
I couldn't buy a stove.
It's like a fortune long delayed,
My heart beats strong once more;
I'll go and get my pretty Kate
And take her to his store."

Sensible young man. Don't wait until you can save a great lot of money to get married. You have a friend who knows how money goes in these times, but make up your mind to put so much each week in your HOME bank with

A DAY OF REST.

THE LOYAL LEGION VISITORS BEING PLEASANTLY ENTERTAINED.

A Visit on 'Change and to the Exposition—The Grand Banquet to the Commandery-in-Chief To-Night—Gen. Hayes Discusses the Order.

The Commandery-in-Chief of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion, having finished its business at yesterday's sessions, this morning entered the pleasanter feature of its annual gatherings by accepting the round of entertainment offered by the Missouri Commandery. The distinguished veteran officers attending the convention were grouped about in the rotunda of the Lindell and in parlor 17, the Reception Committee's headquarters, by 9 o'clock, and the "reunion" of old soldiers seemed to be under full headway. The local Reception Committee appointed for to-day is as follows: Capt. John G. Parker, chairman; Gen. Wesley Merritt, Lieut. G. D. Meier, Col. Henry Flad, Gen. John W. Turner, Col. R. F. Bernard, Maj. C. D. Wilson, Col. R. A. Phelan, Col. W. S. Page, Capt. Daniel Dillon, Gen. A. J. Smith, Lieut. C. H. Sharman, Lieut. E. K. Holton, Maj. H. D. Wood, Surgeon Chas. E. Briggs, Capt. E. H. Peugnet, Lieut. T. A. Post, Col. Geo. E. Leighton, Maj. R. M. McDowell, Col. Geo. D. Reynolds, Maj. A. M. Thayer, Capt. John B. Harlow, Gen. John McNeil, Capt. Julius Pitzman, Lieut. M. A. Doyle, Maj. Chas. E. Pearce, Capt. Wm. E. Ware, Col. T. B. Rodgers, Col. John Boyle, Maj. Dwight Tredway, Lieut. S. W. Kniffin.

At 10 o'clock this morning the Missouri Commandery held a stated business meeting at their headquarters in the Laclede building, and the military detail of cavalry sergeants paced the corridors of that building during the progress of the meeting.

At 12 o'clock the visiting comrades were escorted on the floor of the Merchants' Exchange, where they were given a warm welcome.

HAYES' SPEECH.

The companions of the military order of the Loyal Legion proved to-day that they had not forgotten one military order, that of promptitude, when they filed into the Merchants' Exchange just as the clock was striking 12. Ex-President Rutherford B. Hayes, Commander-in-Chief of the order, led the way, escorted by Vice-President Marcus Bernheimer of the Merchants' Exchange. About sixty members of the order were present and took their seats behind the rostrum. Vice-President Bernheimer rapped for order and introduced Gen. Hayes.

In opening his address, Gen. Hayes said: "I know that in an address to business men during business hours, one of the chief requirements is that a speaker should speak rapidly and use few words. I will, therefore, attempt to give no extended account of the order which has been so warmly welcomed here, and shall content myself with saying that it was a part of the Grand Army that fought for and preserved the Union. St. Louis occupies a peculiar position in this country. It is central and continental as no other great city is. From St. Louis a man can travel further in any direction without leaving the limits of the United States than from any other great center, and it was, therefore, more deeply interested in the preservation of the Union. It did not wish to become a frontier or border city, but was bound to the Union of all the States. There is no city that is less provincial and more continental than St. Louis, and, therefore, none that can more heartily rejoice that we are now a nation with one government, and under one flag. I feel that if I do not stop I shall drift into a speech, and therefore with thanks for the hasty and genuine welcome tendered the order, I wish you all good morning."

GOV. JAMES A. BEAVER.

The next speaker was Gov. James A. Beaver of Pennsylvania. Gov. Beaver said: "I am a business man, and know that the shifting blackboard on the other side of the room is of more interest to my auditors than the shifting panorama of speakers on this platform, especially in the present condition of the wheat market, and the changes that have taken place since morning. But if you are listening to me someone may be prevented from calling. I never sold a bushel of wheat short in my life, but I know what it is. The losers can have the satisfaction of knowing that somebody is winning, no matter how the market turns. I shall, therefore, make my remarks brief. I am from the State of Pennsylvania and have a fellow feeling for Missourians. We do not stand first in the production of any agricultural product except buckwheat, but in all agricultural products combined we take the front rank. We raise more grain of all kinds than any other State. Missouri is more like Pennsylvania than any other State. Each has its great metropolis in the East, and its pushing, bustling city in the West. The character of the people is not dissimilar, and I have noticed there are many Pennsylvanians in Missouri. St. Louis can be called the Philadelphia of the West. Chicago is not ambitious to be like Philadelphia; it is not built that way, but in solidity and wisdom in the use of permanent prosperity, St. Louis and Philadelphia closely resemble each other."

KEIFER'S ADDRESS.

J. Warren Keifer of Springfield, O., ex-Speaker of the House of Representatives, was called to the platform and said: "Since listening to Gen. Hayes and Gov. Beaver I am surprised that they ever entered the army. If the country had known of their abilities as speakers the rebellion could have been put down by talk. I was chosen to speak to-day because the rest of the comrades of the order spent yesterday in the city, and were the recipients of so much hospitality that people are afraid to trust them to-day. I have only been here for a few hours and can be trusted. We are members of a soldiers' organization, but we are the most good-natured soldiers that ever fought in any war. We don't ask whether a man was in the Union or the Confederate army, all that we ask is that he should to-day love the stars and stripes. I have heard to-day a good deal of talk about Philadelphia. It is a fine city, but it is too far east. The course of empire is westward, and St. Louis has the best position to become the center of this nation, at least for the immediate future. You are not as near the geographical center of the country as most suppose for the geographical center of the United States, including Alaska, is more than 100 miles west of Portland, Ore. But for a long time St. Louis will be nearer the practical center than any other great city."

W. H. LAMBERT'S SPEECH.

The last speaker was William H. Lambert, ex-Mayor of Philadelphia. Maj. Lambert said: "I never saw the Mississippi before, but when I came to St. Louis I had a real home feeling. The names of the streets reminded me of Philadelphia, and I saw many old friends. But what has given me a real home feeling is the fact that the bond between Philadelphia and St. Louis is very close. St. Louis is very much like Philadelphia. You should know that we regard such a statement as a very high compliment. We are companions in misery. Chicago, by annexing most of the State of Illinois, has passed us both. We did not expect it, but such is the fact. That mushroom city accomplished its aim by stealing one of our most brilliant ideas. Some thirty years ago Philadelphia annexed most of the adjacent country, and in the census made a splendid showing. If we had known that Chicago was going to see us, and go us so much better, we would have unmixed six or eight counties, together with the New Jersey suburbs, and have been the first city in the Union. But it is too late now, and we must weep together."

At 4 o'clock a visit will be made to the Exposition building on an invitation from the management. The programme of entertainment will conclude with a grand banquet at the Lindell Hotel, tendered to the Commandery-in-Chief by the Missouri Commandery. The opening address will be delivered by Col. Chas. E. Pearce and the most elaborate preparations have been made for the crowning event of the Commandery-in-Chief's visit to St. Louis.

THE BANQUET TO-NIGHT.

The banquet will begin at 9 o'clock in the large dining-hall of the Lindell. The tables will be profusely decorated with flowers, while the walls will be draped with a beautiful stand of national colors, surmounted by the insignia of the Loyal Legion. A most complete menu is being prepared, and following the banquet with "walnuts and wine" will come the speech-making. Only three set toasts will be given, viz.:

"Our Guests," response by Mr. Charles E. Pearce.

"The Military Order of the Loyal Legion," response by Gen. Rutherford B. Hayes.

"The Army and Navy," response by Brig.-Gen. Wesley Merritt, United States Army.

At the meeting of the Missouri Commandery the following were elected members of the order:

FOR THE FIRST CLASS.

Risdon Marshall Moore, Colonel 117th Illinois Infantry; Edwin Vose Sumner, Lieutenant-Colonel U. S. Army; John Edward Herbst, Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel U. S. V.; Henry Clay Caldwell, Colonel 3d Iowa Calvary; James Nicholls Allison, First Lieutenant U. S. Army; Thomas Dudley Witt, First Lieutenant Battery K, 1st Mo. Light Artillery; John Boyland Pratt, late Acting Ensign U. S. Navy; James Edge Ashcroft, Captain 19th N. Y. Infantry and 3d N. Y. Artillery.

GEN. R. B. HAYES.

The Commander-in-Chief of the Loyal Legion Discusses Its Objects.

Gen. Rutherford B. Hayes, Commander-in-Chief of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion, was seen in his parlors at the Lindell Hotel this morning by a POST-DISPATCH reporter before the Legion session opened. The distinguished visitor was looking much refreshed after a good night's rest, and his gray hair and beard surrounded a face ruddy and tanned by the country life he has chosen as his means of retreat from the publicity that attends the movements of an ex-President of the United States.

"With the exception of passing directly through St. Louis on one or two occasions," said Gen. Hayes, "this is the first visit I have made to the city since the war. I have not yet had much time to look around me, but what I have seen of St. Louis shows, of course, the most wonderful increase and improvement. This morning before breakfast I took a drive across your great bridge, which is a decided addition to St. Louis since I last saw the city.

"The present meeting of the Loyal Legion," said the Commander-in-Chief, "is of the legislative body only, not of the entire national organization. Each commandery is entitled to one delegate to this convention, but I do not believe there will be more than fifty delegates present.

"Beyond certain questions of membership upon which there may be some difference of opinion in the body, although none is anticipated, and the reports of officers, the business calling us together is purely of a routine character. I do not think it will require more than a two-days' session to get through with the work.

"The Military Order of the Loyal Legion is modeled in its formation upon the order of the Cincinnati, founded by George Washington. The qualifications necessary for eligibility to membership are that the applicant should have been an officer in the Union army, or should have rendered some service to the Union. Like the order of the Cincinnati, membership in the Legion has been made hereditary, so that it descends from father to son, and the order is thus made an immortal organization. The Legion, of course, is closely connected with the Grand Army, owing to the fact that the members of one organization are naturally members of the other, but there is no other connection.

"The one great purpose, and the one great element of value of the Legion, is that its vital principle, its reason for living, is the gathering and preservation of historical data of the war, compiled from personal experiences. Members of the Legion are urged, in preparing such experiences, to put aside the consideration or treatment of the questions supposed to be brought up by a review of those times, such as slavery, etc., and to devote themselves entirely to the narrative of their own individual experience. These memories are collected and printed in bound form, and have attained an immense circulation and are highly prized for their undoubted historical value. When a member of the Legion dies, the order also makes a point of obtaining and printing as complete a biographical sketch as possible, so that its records will in time be invaluable to the descendants of those who served the Union during the war.

"The order is in a most flourishing condition, and is growing rapidly. At the present session we shall probably establish a new commandery at Tacoma, Wash. I have already met several old friends in St. Louis, and anticipate much pleasure from my visit here."

Mississippi Constitutional Convention.

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 16.—The Constitutional Convention is still hammering away at the judiciary report, and only one provision remains to be disposed of, and by the hour of adjournment for dinner the way will be clear for the consideration of the supplementary report of the Franchise Committee relating to the extension of the term of county, legislative and district officers for the term of two years beyond the term for which they were elected. This is a burning question, and there is no telling how much time it will consume.

The Locomotive Engineers.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 16.—The International Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers held a short session this morning, but as the Committee on Organization was not ready to report, no important business was transacted. This afternoon a grand open meeting was held at the Opera-house, at which addresses were delivered by Mayor Gourley, Grand Chief Engineer Arthur, Hon. Chauncey M. Depew, Maj. E. A. Montooth and others.

Judge Thayer's Brother Dying.

Judge A. M. Thayer received a telegram last night informing him that his elder brother, who has been lying ill at Sherman, New York, would hardly survive the night. Judge Thayer left this morning for Sherman. He had expected to attend the funeral of Justice Miller on Saturday. Judge Treat, who returned to the city yesterday having spent the summer at the sea shore and in New York State visiting his daughter, will probably go to Keokuk with the delegation from the St. Louis bar.

Only $3 to Cincinnati and return on the Ohio & Mississippi Railway. Tickets on sale until Oct. 19, inclusive.

Gen. Belknap's Funeral.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 16.—Gen. Belknap's funeral took place from St. John's Church at 10:30 o'clock this morning. Long before the remains arrived the church was crowded. The remains, escorted by Union veterans, G. A. R. veterans and the Third Artillery band, followed by the family and friends, arrived at the church promptly at 10:30. The casket was borne by six non-commissioned officers of the artillery (all in full uniform), followed by the honorary pall bearers and relatives. As the remains were brought into church the choir sang "Lead, Kindly Light," after which Dr. Douglass, assisted by Rev. Stuart Crockett, Rev. John M. E. McKee, Rev. C. M. Pine and Rev. Robert Wood read the Episcopal funeral service. The casket was then placed in the hearse and, preceded by the G. A. R. "Old Guard" and followed by a large procession of friends, was taken to Arlington Cemetery where the remains were placed in their last resting place. The honorary pallbearers were Secretary Noble, ex-Postmaster Gen. Creswell, Gen. Grant's Assistant Secretary of War; Gen. Cyrus Bussey, Assistant Secretary of the Interior; Gen. Batcheller, Gen. Bennett, Gen. Vincent, Gen. H. A. Boynton of the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, Gen. William Veasey, Commander-in-Chief of the G. A. R.; Hallett Kilbourn, Senator Manderson and two members of the local Legion. A great number of army and navy officers and prominent public officials and many well-known citizens of Washington attended the funeral and followed the remains of the soldier and ex-Cabinet officer to the grave.

An Interesting Controversy.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Oct. 16.—An interesting controversy between the Buchanan County Democratic Committee and four of the Democratic candidates on the county ticket was settled here yesterday. A few weeks ago the Republican County Convention indorsed Judge Henry M. Ramsey, Eugene Sprat, John M. Stewart and James Hull, the Democratic candidates for Circuit Judge, Sheriff, Probate Judge and County Collector, respectively. The County Democratic Committee strongly objected to this and insisted on these candidates withdrawing from the Republican ticket. They refused and the committee then notified them that it would withhold their certificates of nomination. The whole matter was settled yesterday when the committee was advised by its counsel to file the certificates at once.

Miners Resume Work.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 16.—The Journal's Ishpeming (Mich.) special says: Several hundred miners returned to work this morning, but 2,000 are still out. A meeting of strikers was held this afternoon to discuss the situation.

The Ivy Club, composed of well-known North St. Louis people, will have its annual select reception and ball next Saturday night at Plummers' Hall, Thirteenth and Benton streets. A very choice programme has been prepared for the event.

STRIKERS VICTORIOUS.

THE EAST SIDE CARPENTERS RECEIVE WHAT THEY DEMANDED.

A Number of the Contractors Accept Their Terms and the Men Go to Work This Morning—A High Wind To-Day Does Considerable Damage—Novel Wedding in Belleville.

The carpenters' strike in East St. Louis virtually came to an end to-day, with the victory on the side of the strikers. The decided stand taken by the members of the union in the trouble as soon as it was reported caused the contractors, or at least a majority of them, to come to time, which they did with alacrity when they saw the determination of the men to hold out. Doubtless the contractors felt that they were not in the wrong in securing workmen at low rates, when these workmen were members of the union in good standing, but the union, though rather astonished at the course of a few of its members, took a stand at once in a way that was not to be mistaken. The effect was seen this morning when a majority of the contractors were found ready to re-employ the men who had struck and to pay them the union price, which is 35 cents an hour. About one hundred men went to work this morning. The contractors to whom the others applied still remained firm, but appearances indicate that they must give in before the week is out, as protracted idleness means heavy financial loss to them. In many cases they are under contract to put up the building they are at work on within a certain time, and consequently they are at a disadvantage. The East St. Louis union is one of the strongest in the country and is famous among labor organizations for the steadfastness of its members to each other in times of trouble. The carpenters are confident that they have the strike won and that all their men will be at work at union rates before the week ends.

DAMAGED BY WIND TO-DAY.

A high wind did considerable damage in East St. Louis early this morning. Several buildings in the southern part of the city were slightly injured, and one new building in process of erection was completely wrecked, entailing a loss of several thousand dollars. This was an iron building, which was being erected by the Tudor Iron Co. at the Little Rolling Mill. It was being built for use as a spike mill and would have been ready for the machinery in a few days. The frame-work was up and a roof of corrugated iron had been put on. The siding of the same material was ready to be put in place. A gust of wind passed through the framework, and striking the under side of the roof lifted up the building and turned it over. About $3,000 had been expended on the building. It will have to be entirely rebuilt.

A HALL FOR SECRET SOCIETIES.

A proposition to build a large hall for the use of the secret societies of East St. Louis is being talked of among the lodge members, and may be acted upon in the near future. A similar plan was projected last summer by the local Odd Fellows Lodge and was within an ace of being carried out. The prospectors even went so far as to take an option on a site for the hall and were ready to form a stock company, when dissensions arose to prevent. The proposition now being talked of contemplates a joint movement of the Masons and Odd Fellows toward the desired end. A meeting will be called next week to discuss the matter.

A Democratic campaign rally will be held this evening at O'Fallon, at which Daniel G. Ramsey of East St. Louis and Nicholas Bond of Centerville Station will deliver addresses. The speakers are the Democratic candidates for Representatives of the Forty-seventh Senatorial District. Another meeting will be held at O'Fallon on the 23d inst., when Hon. Peter Seibert of Smithton, the Democratic candidate for State Senator in this district, will deliver an address. James J. Rafter and Alexander Flannigan of East St. Louis will address the Democrats of Cahokia at Abbey Hall Oct. 19.

The members of the East St. Louis Police Department have raised a fund of nearly $300 for the family of Officer James Brady, the St. Louis policeman who was killed recently in the discharge of his duty. The officers themselves subscribed liberally to the fund and received numerous donations from citizens.

A branch of the Independent Political Association of Railway Employes is being organized in East St. Louis.

Joseph Salzburg, the demented young man who walked into the police station yesterday, was liberated to-day, the police having received no instructions from the Belleville authorities as to what disposition they should make of his case.

The Western Sign & Painting Co. of East St. Louis, incorporated with $10,000 capital by W. J. Haas, S. Bass and Stephen Rath, received a charter of incorporation yesterday.

Joseph Goss was fined $5 by Justice Bunyan yesterday for cruelty to animals.

Belleville.

The project of constructing a short railway line that will connect the towns of Lebanon, Mascoutah and Fayetteville in the eastern part of the county, which is being carried out by a number of prominent citizens of the places named and of Belleville, they having formed a stock company for that purpose, is beginning to assume definite proportions. The company has had the proposed route surveyed by Engineer Kerr, who made his report at a meeting of the directors held in Belleville to-day. In all probability the line will be constructed next spring.

The water famine in Belleville has reached such a stage that the supply of the fire hydrants, as well as that of factories and private consumers, has been cut off, the water works' pumps have been stopped altogether. Chief Ebel of the Fire Department has taken steps to protect property by having the old city wells and cisterns reopened and the steamers put in readiness for use. The Waugh Mill has been forced to suspend operations, but the Western Mill draws a plentiful supply of water from a large pond near by. The Pump and Skein works will have to shut down in a few days and most all of the smaller factories have already suspended.

A novel wedding ceremony will be performed this evening at Liederkranz Hall by Rev. William Weber of St. Paul's Free Protestant Church. Miss Lina Raab will be married to Mr. Hugo Eyssel of Kansas City and Miss Lina Hucke to Mr. Otto Eyssel, also of Kansas City. The ceremony will be performed during the progress of a short drama written expressly for the occasion by Miss Raab's mother, in the production of which the brides and grooms will enact the leading roles. The double wedding will, of course, be a scene in the play.

Congressman William M. Springer of the Fifteenth Illinois District delivered a campaign speech yesterday evening at the City Park in Belleville. His audience was not what it might have been in size, but made up in appreciative interest what was lacking in numbers. His talk was mainly of the force bill and the tariff. The speech was pronounced a fine effort by all who heard it.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to Omar Gardner and Nellie Daws of Alma, Charles R. Berger and Martha Cox of St. Louis, Samuel Bradford and Elizabeth Vuits of Centerville, Luther Smith of East Carondelet and Harriet Hub of St. Louis, Hugo Eyssel of Kansas City and Lina F. Raab of Belleville.

ON CHANGE.

Grain and Flour.

Wheat—The bears bumped against a few strong influences this morning that brought them up with a round turn and stopped their heavy slugging of the market. In the first place, the private cables were all firm, some noting an upward tendency, and this was unexpected, as it was thought yesterday's lower and weak close in America would be reflected in this morning's cables. Then corn and oats, especially the latter, were on a bull rampage, the weather generally raining throughout the country and outside markets advancing and showing strength. These were what held sellers off in the home market and brought out better buying than the offerings could stand. Northwestern receipts of 624 cars were considered only fair and were about 200 cars smaller than those of a year ago, which fact was not encouraging to the short seller, though our own receipts were considered good and the export clearances from the seaboard far from liberal, 20,500 pkgs flour and 7,500 bu wheat from three ports. There was no other bull news turned up, but Chicago held strong until late. Then that market began sliding downward and at once started selling here, with the result that a decline took place. The close was steady at advance of [illegible] over yesterday's close. Dec. opened at $1.00⅝, sold up to $1.01¼, back to $1.01, up to $1.01⅛, and off to $1.00⅞, closing at $1.00⅞@1.01 bid. May opened at $1.07 and sold to $1.07¼, to $1.07, to $1.07⅛, to $1.07, to $1.07⅜, to $1.07, and latter asked at close. July sold at 92½c, off to 92⅛c, and up to 92⅞c. SPOT GRADES were quiet. There was a speculative demand for No. 2 red, but millers were standing off indifferently and could not be induced to take hold freely. Sales: No 2 red—2 cars regular at 98½c, 5 cars and 5,600 bu regular and 5 cars in St. L. at 98¾c, part car in U. at 99c, 2 cars E. side at 99@99¼c. No. 3 red—6 cars in St. L. at 95½c; E. side offered at 96⅛c, bid 96½c. No. 2 hard offered in St. L. at 94⅛c, bid 94½c for regular. No. 3 hard offered at 92½c, bid 91½c for E. side. No. 2 Colorado offered in St. L. at 96c, bid 94¼c and for E. side 94c bid. SAMPLES—Offerings fair. The local millers bought freely of the milling grades. Low grades neglected. Corn—There was a startling deficiency between the amount offered for sale in the pit this morning and the amount wanted, and this fact startled some of the shorts into covering the lines they had out. Except one statement in the Cincinnati Price Current that could be construed as rather bullish, the rainy weather and firm cables, there was nothing particularly bullish going around in the way of news, but the bulge in oats had a strong effect, and the disinclination to sell made offerings dead scarce. Receipts were moderate, but a good portion went through. The market was very strong late, when it eased off some.

The close, however, was firm, with buyers at ¾c above yesterday. May opened at 49⅜@½c, sold up to 50c, off to 49⅝c, up to 50⅛c, down to 49⅞c, and latter bid at close. SPOT GRADES showed strength and advanced. Especially was No. 2 white strong, as it was really scarce and sold quickly when offered. The order demand was more urgent, but there was little buying for any other account. Sales: No. 2—1 car in C. and 3 in St. L. at 48c, 2 E. side and 15 in Cdlt. at 48¼c, 4 E. side at 48⅜c, regular offered at 47⅞c, bid 47⅝c and for E. side 48⅛c bid late. No. 2 white—10 cars in St. L. at 49½c, same bid for E. side and 49¼c for regular. No. 3 white—48c bid for E. side, 47½c for this side, 49c for C. No. 3—47½c bid for E. side, 47⅛c for C. SAMPLES in demand and higher. SALES—200 sks white at 51c, 390 do at 51½c, 3 cars fancy do track this side at 52c, 3 do p.t. Sacked lots on orders 56@57c.

Oats—There was a further good bulge in the May option, for which shorts were climbing and not finding much for sale. Chicago led in the advance, but unfavorable weather throughout the West and light receipts were strengthening influences and the close was ⅝c above yesterday. May opened at 44c and sold up to 44½c, closing at 44⅜c. SPOT GRADES were scarce and strong. They were salable at good prices, but so little offered that buyers would not bid up very high. No. 2 was not offered nor was No. 3, and the bids were 39c for both No. 2 and No. 3 regular and 39½c for No. 3 this side. No. 2 white offered at 42½c in U., bid 41½c and for this side 42c bid. SAMPLE—Offerings were only fair and there was a good active inquiry and prices ranged from 1c to 1½c higher on No. 2 and 3 white and on other grades from ½c to 1c higher. Sales: special bin—1 car No. 3 at 39½c, 3 do at 39¾c, 1 No. 2 at 40¼c, 1 No. 2 color at 41¼c, 1 No. 3 white (short storage) at 42c, 1 No. 2 Northern at 42c, 3 No. 2 white at 43c, 3 do (short storage) at 42¼c. Sacked lots on orders 45@47c.

Rye—The only sales were of a car No. 4 in St. L. at 50c and a car no grade in St. L. at 45c. No. 3 was offered at 59½c, and the best bid was 58c. For No. 2 regular, 61½c bid and none offered.

Barley—The Brewing Association is beginning to take hold more freely, and to-day a fairly active business was transacted at steady rates. We quote: Medium at 52½@57½c; prime at 62½@67½c; choice at 67½@70c; fancy at 72½c.

Flour—There continues to be a fair inquiry and light trading, sellers holding firmly and buyers holding off for shade lower prices before placing their orders. Sales: Bbls: 450 at $3.50, 100 at $4.05, 950 p. t.: Sacks: 70 at $4.05 delivered, 1,500 p. t.

Screenings—Sales: 1 car E. track at 60c, 1 track this side at 62½c.

Hay—Receipts continue large, and there was only a local demand. Buyers confined themselves to the best grades and bought sparingly. There was only a light order demand. Values remain about the same, but the market can be called dull. Sales: On track this side—Timothy, 1 car mixed at $9.50, 1 prime mixed at $10.50; clover mixed at $10.50, 1 strictly prime, $11; 1 choice at $12, 1 fancy at $12.50, 2 gilt-edged at $13, 1 do at $13.80. ON THE STREET.

[The Post-Dispatch quotations are for lots in first hands unless stated otherwise. On orders higher.]

Apples strong on best grades, but weak on poor. Grapes were slow sale, owing to the cool weather. Quinces, also, meeting only a light demand, and market weak. Potatoes show a little improvement, which is attributable mainly to the cool weather. Onions meeting a steady demand at firm rates—yellow better. Cabbage down. Celery demoralized under large supplies and arrivals. Home-grown vegetables in free supply generally and quiet. Butter in continued good demand on the best grades. Eggs higher. Poultry in only fair receipt, and we note an improvement in price on springs and hens, and on turkeys there continues a good demand at better prices. Game arrived liberally, and most of it was in first-class order, there being few complaints. Market firm all around, and on grouse and snipe a shade better in prices. Veals showed more inquiry at a slight advance.

Fruit.

Apples—To-day's arrivals showed a material falling off, although the stocks on hand were liberal and consisted mostly of culls or seconds and loose-packed stock, which were weak and in slow request. For a good, sound, smooth, well-packed Ben Davis, say, the market was firmer and the demand first-class. We quote: Common at $1.50 mainly, fair to medium at $1.50@2, choice at $2@2.50 and fancy at $2.50@3 per bbl. Sales: 25 bbls Geniting at $1.65, 64 Ben Davis at $1.75, 32 Winesap at $1.80, 30 do, 18 Russet, 30 Winesap and 13 Ben Davis at $1.90, 15 Winesap, 83 bbls and 3 cars (1 car mixed with a few other varieties) Ben Davis at $2, 38 Ben Davis and 17 Winesap at $2.10, 62 Ben Davis at $2.25, 18 Roman Beauty at $2.40, 17 Ben Davis at $2.50, 2 cars fancy Ben Davis at $3.

Grapes—While no lower in price this morning's cool wave put a damper on the demand and sales were slow, while offerings were ample. New York and Pennsylvania concords sold at 28@30c; Ohio Delaware (scarce) at 40@50c, Catawba at 25@30c, Concords at 25@27c, Ives' seedling at 26c and Martha and Elvira at 25c per 9-lb basket.

Bananas—On orders, choice bunches sell at $1.75@2.25 per bunch.

Cocoanuts—Sell at $5 per 100 and $45 per 1,000.

Vegetables.

Potatoes—There was perhaps a shade improvement noticeable to-day, the receipts being a little better in quality, due to the cooler weather, while the stock on hand shows signs of being cleaned up. There is still, however, considerable, dry rot, soft, small and knotty stock on the market, which was hard to move. We quote sound stock—Northern at 65@80c, Eastern at 70@85c, home-grown at 40@50c. Sales—Northern, delivered, 1 car Mich. rose, 1 white star and 1 hebron at 75c, 1 do hebron and 1 Wis. burbank at 80c.

Sales: 42 sks Missouri red at 70c.

Cabbage—A further decline to note, the large receipts and slowness of buyers to take hold being the cause. We quote Northern in bulk and delivered at $8@9 per ton, and in crates on orders at $1.25 per crate.

Celery—Notwithstanding the liberal stocks on hand, this morning's arrivals were large and the market became demoralized. Considerable stock sold for freight charges. While the demand is fair and the present weather excellent, the market will have to become cleaned up to regain its footing. We quote from 10c to 25c per bunch for both consigned and home-grown on orders, with extra fancy bunches selling higher.

Poultry and Game.

Live Poultry—Receipts only fair, the bulk of arrivals being hens and spring chickens, for which there was a fairly active inquiry. Fat turkeys, both young and old, were scarce and wanted. Thin stock slow sale. Geese and ducks in light receipt, but fully ample for the demand.

Hens	6½@7c	Young geese	5½@6c
Roosters	3½c	Young turkeys	9@9½c
Spring chickens	7c	Old turkeys	8½@9c

Game—Receipts liberal and the condition of arrivals continue to show a decided improvement. There was a good active inquiry for everything. Grouse, snipe and venison having the largest call, and show a slight advance in values. Anything arriving out of condition was dull and sold slowly. Our quotations cover only fresh receipts in good condition.

Butter and Eggs.

Butter—There was a good active inquiry for the best grades of both creamery and dairy. The stocks of these descriptions in hands of dealers were very light, being hardly sufficient to supply the demand of the local dealers and grocers, who are the only buyers. Medium and low grades continue to accumulate and are dull. The near-by creameries are not making their usual output, which is largely the cause for the light receipts and the scarcity of these grades.

Commercial Notes.

The stock of wheat in the home market is now the highest on the present crop.

The amount of rye on passage for Europe is now 2,760,000 bu, against 1,379,000 bu a year ago.

Funsten & Co. received to-day a car of apples which is believed to be the largest car ever received in this market. It consisted of 286 bbls of 3 bu to the bbl.

The Portland Oregonian says the harvest in Oregon has been completed and proves to be a good one. Some wheat was said to clean out 35 bu to the acre, while some fields have done even better.

The Cincinnati "Price Current" says nothing special on the crops. Moisture and warmth was somewhat prejudicial to corn in some districts, but for the most part the crop is making fair progress in curing. Wheat is making abnormal growth in a limited area, but generally is favorable.

The Sessinghaus Milling Co., that took the first premium over all competitors at the recent St. Louis Fair on patent and clear flours, are exhibiting samples of their premium grades on 'Change, where they attract general and admiring attention from the trade.

The amount of wheat set afloat for Europe last week, including shipments from this country, India, Russia, Danubian ports and Australia, was 5,085,000 bu. As the amount on ocean passage decreased 2,168,000 bu during the same time, then the enormous amount of 7,200,000 bu was last week imported by the United Kingdom and Continent to swell their stocks.

The Liverpool Corn Trade News says: "During the month of September the clearances of wheat from the Danube amounted to 9,600,000 bu. Our correspondents estimate that during October they will not exceed 3,600,000 bu, and that in November they are likely to be as small as 1,600,000 to 2,000,000 bu."

The Liverpool Corn Trade News of a late date says: "The position taken by the Danube as the chief exporter is still the topic of conversation. That a country that was estimated by some authorities quite lately as likely to export only 8,000,000 bu during the season should actually have exported 6,000,000 in three weeks will come somewhat as a surprise to them. Even our estimate of 48,000,000 bu, which was considered wild a few weeks ago, appears as if it would be exceeded. But usually Roumania exports two-thirds of her wheat before the closing of navigation, and is certainly adhering to her customary policy this season. It also says: 'The importation of wheat during Sept. was very heavy in Liverpool, being nearly one-third of the total importation of the U. K. for that period. The weekly outgoings have only averaged 68,000 qrs, hence there has been a considerable increase in the stocks, which, however, should meet with a good demand during the winter months, when arrivals are likely to be lighter.'"

Beerbohm of Oct. 3 says: The statistical position of wheat on Oct. 1, with regard to the visible stocks in various centers, compares with previous years as follows:

	1890. Qrs.	1889. Qrs.	1888. Qrs.
Afloat for Europe	2,991,000	1,915,000	2,950,000
Stocks in United Kingdom	2,200,000	1,650,000	2,000,000
Visible supply in United States	3,349,000	3,341,000	4,658,000
Stocks in French ports	250,000	767,000	900,000
Stocks in Paris	62,000	122,000	290,000
Stocks in Odessa	500,000	632,000	1,000,000
Stocks in Berlin, Danzig and Stettin	43,000	306,000	230,000
Total	9,395,000	8,933,000	12,028,000
Equal bushels	75,160,000	71,464,000	96,224,000

Chicago Market Letters.

Special to J. P. Grier.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—There is little change in our wheat market. A moderate business doing and fluctuations narrow. Dec. selling at $1.03⅛ and back to $1.03¼, where it closed. European advices are better, but so far the export inquiry is light. For the present there is little in it beyond a small scalp, and it can be made on either side.

Corn has been very strong, with a full cent advance since yesterday, May closing at 53⅛c.

The oat pit had a full attendance, and the price of May advanced to 45⅛c and closes at this sellers.

Provisions ruled firm. Local shorts were moderate buyers, and packers also bought early. The feeling is more bullish. Cash demand for meats improving.

F. G. LOGAN & Co.

Special to Ewald & Co.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—The wheat market fairly active, but with trading mostly local. The scalpers seem to have worked the market on the principle of fighting somebody, and as Hutchinson appeared in the pit as a buyer the crowd seemed to have taken pleasure in hammering the market—in which, however, they were by no means successful. News was very scarce. Receipts in the Northwest were [illegible] cars, which the crowd considered light and which was one element of strength. Everything considered the market closes very firm and we see no reason to apprehend a break to-morrow. Public cables were quoted quiet and steady, but those from private sources noted a rather better feeling.

Corn has shown decided strength and many persistent bears were driven to cover. The firmness is due to large cash demand for shipment East and to the prospects that to-day's wet weather will delay receipts.

Oats showed decided excitement and a marked advance. One or two houses hold all of the oats in store here and seem to be taking all offerings. It has gotten to be a fancy deal, and we are inclined to advise our friends to exercise caution in trading on either side.

Provisions showed more activity and better trading than for any day for two weeks. The market is very firm and there were indications of a marked increase in speculation from outside. We believe purchases can be made with safety.

CITY NEWS.

FOR fine quality men's knit underwear there is only one place to go if you would buy it actually below value, and that place is Crawford's, and the reason that this house can make such a statement is owing to the great purchase of R. K. Davis' bankrupt stock a short time ago. This immense stock was bought at a big sacrifice, therefore Crawford's patrons can buy $1.00 sanitary gray shirts or drawers for 75c and $5.00 all-wool derby ribbed suits for $2.50, and so on in like proportion of discount on all grades of goods.

A PITIFUL AND SHOCKING SPECTACLE.

Chas. McCarthy the Victim of a Brutal Reform School Superintendent.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 16.—A more pitiful and shocking spectacle has rarely been seen in this city than that presented yesterday by Chas. McCarthy before the Committee on Investigation into the alleged cruelties at the Sockonosset State Reform School. McCarthy, who is but 14 years old, was, it is charged, confined in the "sweat box" at the institution for thirty-two days and to-day he is but little more than a skeleton of a once bright lad. When brought to the hearing by his parents he was livid and weak and death seemed imminent. The members of the committee were horrified, and Chairman Wilson asserted that they would not listen to a word uttered by a child in such a helpless physical condition. But the parents insisted that the committee should hear his story, and they supported the lad that he might take the oath. But young McCarthy was too weak to hold out his hand and his father held his arm up for him. When liberated the hand dropped helplessly to the boy's side. The commissioners refused to swear him in his helpless condition, and after reviving the poor lad with brandy they sent him home. Mrs. McCarthy testified that Charley, when first seen by her at the school, had become so weak that he had to crawl down stairs. He told her how he had been confined in the dark cellar for thirty-two days on bread and water. Supt. Niebecker told her that Charley would not apologize and that was the reason he was punished. She further said her boy's body was black and blue where he had been kicked, as he claims, by the Superintendent. McCarthy was released because of his weak condition, and was confined in the Rhode Island Hospital, where he became a bed-ridden invalid. Supt. Niebecker, who admitted the solitary confinement of young McCarthy, denies that the "sweat box" is a bad place. He contends that McCarthy's health was bad when he first came to the Home.

PERSONATING THE MARSHAL.

The Scheme of George Burroughs to Obtain Board, Transportation and Whisky.

Deputy United States Marshal John Oechste of Kansas City arrived yesterday morning with George H. Burroughs, who is wanted in this district for personating the United States Marshal. He obtained board at the Wallace House, New Cambria, Mo., to the amount of $10, and had the bill sent to Marshal Buchanan in St. Louis. He obtained money and favors elsewhere by representing that he was a United States Marshal, and also obtained money on representations that he was a pension agent. He went out of this district into the Western District and was arrested at Carrollton, Mo. He was taken to Kansas City and there, before a United States Commissioner, admitted he had done the things charged. He was removed here to await the action of the November Grand-jury. He says he formerly lived in Cleveland, O., and he has friends in St. Louis, but he will not apply to them to go on his bond, as he does not wish them to know his situation. His name is probably not Burroughs. He has been on a protracted spree.

A NOVEL GIFT.

A Four Courts Lawyer Receives a Neck Tie Made of Rattlesnake Skin.

A novel neck tie was exhibited in the Coroner's office at the Four Courts yesterday morning. It was made entirely of the mottled skin of a timber rattlesnake, being tied in four-in-hand shape, with the fourteen rattles and a button fastened diagonally across the front. The skin was nicely tanned and the whole affair was strikingly handsome—in its way. The tie was sent to Paul Kempf by Alex Wiley, a former St. Louis attorney, who is now practicing law at Thayer, Oregon County, Mo. Mr. Wiley wrote a letter saying that he had killed the snake from whose skin and tail ornament the tie had been made about three months ago. The reptile was an enormous timber rattler, measuring 5 feet 8 inches in length and weighing, after the head had been removed, a trifle more than 9 pounds.

MUSIC AND GYMNASTICS.

THEY WILL BE THE PROGRAMME AT THE EXPOSITION TO-NIGHT.

Another Entertainment by the United Turners—The University Boys Will Attend To-Morrow Night—A Big Crowd Present Last Evening—Vocal Selections Being Given—Features of the Remaining Days.

AGAIN to-night will the United Turners be seen at the Exposition in their gymnastic entertainment. The performance given by them last Monday night proved a great success, and it will be repeated to-night. It is not meant that they will repeat exactly the same performance, for there are several new features to this evening's programme. There will be dumb-bell and wand exercises, calisthenics, fencing with foils by boys and men and marching and singing by girls. This performance will be given from 9 to 10 p. m. as before, and Gilmore's Band will accompany the exercises with appropriate musical selections. As on Monday night the performance will take the place of the second or 9 o'clock concert. The performance given by the united Turners Monday night made a most decided hit, and drew a very large attendance. To-night the crowd will undoubtedly be much greater. There will be other especial attractions besides the Turners this afternoon and evening. The second afternoon concert, lasting from 4 to 5 o'clock, will be attended by ex-President of the United States Rutherford B. Hayes and the members of the Loyal Legion, which has been holding its convention here. Then at the first evening concert—the 7 o'clock concert—Miss Emilie Adler, contralto from the Court Theater in Tassell, will render a vocal solo.

***

Some time ago the POST-DISPATCH suggested that occasional vocal selections and choruses might be used to advantage in connection with the band in Music Hall. The management of the Exposition have adopted the plan this week. Last evening Mrs. Lena Steinmeyer-Rockel sang the scena and prayer from "Der Freischutz." The solo was given at the 9 o'clock concert and was received with the most demonstrative applause, the lady being accorded a double encore. It was one of the hits of the season. To-night Miss Adler will sing as already mentioned and to-morrow night Miss Maud Pannell will render a solo. There were also three other solos rendered earlier in the season, the last by Mrs. Mayo-Rhodes a few evenings ago, and all made pronounced hits.

***

To-morrow night will be scenery night at the Exposition, and all the handsome scenery which the management has procured for Music Hall will be displayed to the public for the first time. There will be another feature to the night. At the 7 o'clock concert a handsome written testimonial will be presented to Dr. Matthews, the late pastor of Centenary Church. It will be the gift of non-churchmen of St. Louis and the presentation speech will be made by Mayor Noonan, Dr. Matthews responding in a brief address. There will be about twenty-five clergymen present on the stage and Mr. L. F. Lindsay will conduct singing, in which the audience will be invited to join. To-morrow night will also be university night. About four hundred students of the Washington and St. Louis Universities, the Christian Brothers' College and the various medical colleges will take part in a programme to be given. They will sing college glee songs, will have vocal and instrumental soloists and intend to give a concert that will reflect credit on St. Louis educational institutes. In addition to these features there will be a kazoo and locust bands. In fact the students have bought up all the kazoos in the city and have also secured all the locusts—the instruments of torture used by the drummers on their night at the Exposition—they could find, and by the liberal use of both these instruments expect to make enough noise to make the occasion be remembered by all who attend. Besides the students who will take part there are hundreds of others who will be in attendance, and many will be accompanied by their best girls or members of their family. The boys anticipate having a great time of it at the Ex., and will be sorely disappointed if they do not succeed in having one.

***

Last night's attendance was the greatest of the week, despite the fact that the weather was anything but auspicious. It was Masonic night, and some very handsome tableaux were displayed. They were the prettiest tableaux that any of the societies showed this season. The first curtain displayed showed the emblems of the Masonic order, surrounded by a beautiful wreath of flowers. When this curtain was lifted there was seen the youthful figure of Hope holding a green wreath in his hand and encircled by the huge floral wreath visible in the opening tableaux. To the right of the figure stood old white-bearded Father Time with his sickle in hand and an hour glass at his feet. Another curtain was raised and it revealed on either side of Hope the figures of Faith and Charity, representing the Masonic emblems of Faith, Hope and Charity. Behind a red and silver gauze scene stood a nurse by the bed-side of a sufferer. Back of them again was a half concealed curtain upon which was painted in dim perspective a noble temple. This gave way to a splendid sunset scene. When this was lifted the last curtain was revealed. It showed a brilliant moon surrounded by silver stars and a comet. It was a most gorgeous scene, and when the stage curtain fell and shut out the tableaux from view there was most demonstrative applause for a repetition of the tableaux. While they were displayed Gilmore's band played soft and appropriate music, adding greatly to the effect. All the tableaux were greeted with enthusiastic applause.

Misses S. Conley, L. Goodman and L. Thornburg were among the pretty girls who wore new and stylish fall gowns to the Exposition, not forgetting to give the ECHOES their usual call.

Sergt. Shoemaker has made a magnificent record this year for his zealous guarding the Exposition. He is one of the perfect gentlemen, who is brave and gentle at the same time.

Three days more and then the beautiful white-winged ship of B. Nugent & Bro. and the snowy billows in which she is tossed about so unceasingly will be things of the past. It seems a shame that so handsome a display is not preserved.

Those little boys and their dumb-bells were the prettiest, most graceful performers of the gymnastic evening. A lady remarked that the grown class should have worn black stockings and knee pants to have made them picturesque also.

Every day witnesses an improvement in gas and electric fixtures. This fact is strongly impressed on everybody who visits the Exposition and sees the magnificent exhibit of the A. Siegel Gas Fixture Co. Such a collection has never before been seen here.

Wirt Farris, Perry Selby of Old Orchard and some of the others who belong to that clique were there last evening. The figure of Mr. H. Matthews, who was a devotee of the Music Hall and was always acting as the escort of some fair lady in the early part of the season, is missed by his friends. Harry now shines in Galveston society, and the pretty girls here will know his face no more for some time to come.

Mrs. Alex Stuart, Mrs. Cameron and Mrs. Jackson Slane of Cincinnati, with Mrs. E. Hammar, visited the ECHOES press last evening and were deeply interested in all they saw. They made a minute examination of the press while it was still, remaining to see it do the work, the methods of which had been rendered perfectly plain to them by one of the young gentlemen who take such pride in running the little sensation.

People who have been gouged by the men who have had the refreshment privileges at other places of entertainment are thankful that the Exposition management awarded A. E. Faust the right to run and operate a restaurant in the basement of the building. In too many instances heretofore at other places people have had to pay enormous prices for very indifferent food. At the restaurant in the basement of the Exposition nothing but the very finest quality of food is sold, and at prices which would be charged for the same articles down town. There is no extorting of exorbitant prices from people simply because they are practically at the mercy of Mr. Faust for the time being. The popular caterer finds that his liberal policy pays too, for people now visit his place regularly, whereas if they were overcharged there once or given poor food they would never again return.

Browning,
CLOTHIERS
King & Co.

"IF people only knew the actual superiority of the Browning-King clothing, they would sell all the clothing sold in America." This was remarked by a gentleman who knows the Browning-King clothing thoroughly, and who is authority on the clothing subject.

But we can't get everybody to know this in a day. If we did we couldn't supply the demand. They are learning it about as fast as we can arrange to properly serve them. The merit of our goods tells the story for us. It needs no hurrahing or deceptive advertising to assist sales. We are making trade for years to come. The people will all know what our clothing is after awhile, and the remark of the gentleman quoted above will be in a measure verified.

NO COURT MARTIAL ORDERED.

Reply of the Commander of the Sons of Veterans to the Grier Letter.

The trouble that arose in the organization of the Sons of Veterans in consequence of the order by Division Commander H. J. Kline of St. Joseph in reference to the Harrison reception will probably go no further. No orders have been received suspending the officers who participated in the parade, and it is the general opinion that nothing will be done, but the matter will be allowed to drop. The comrades of the Grand Army were ready and willing to sustain the action of the camps that refused to obey the Kline order and Gen. D. P. Grier was heartily congratulated on all sides for the letter he wrote to the Division Commander. This morning he received the following reply:

Gen. D. P. Grier, St. Louis, Mo.:

DEAR SIR AND COMRADE—While appreciating the interest you take in our order, I yet fail to see why you should want to drive me out of it. Inasmuch as no damage has yet resulted from the order issued by me to the St. Louis Camps, I do not think it just the thing to demand my head. I know you will admit that every man is entitled to his convictions and will not even deny me mine. While I do not want to enter into an argument with an old soldier on this matter, I do desire to say that I believe I am sustained by the best members of our order all over the division, and by scores of members of the Grand Army of the Republic in and about St. Joseph. However, I pledge you, as we are both interested in the growth of the order, that I shall be found in the future as I have been found in the past, laboring and spending my money for the order I love and cherish.

Thanking you for your kind feeling for our order and hoping you will some day change your opinion of me, I am truly yours in R. C., and L.

H. J. KLINE,
Colonel Missouri Division.

In reply to a question Mr. Grier said that he had only to say that the letter was a manly, straightforward one. It was discussed among Grand Army men and doubts were expressed as to any considerable number of men being in sympathy with Kline's order. The remark was made that if this was the case, that the St. Joseph comrades must differ greatly from those of St. Louis. All agreed that the letter practically confessed that an error had been made, and it was predicted that no effort to hold the parading camps responsible for their disobedience of orders would be made.

They are stopping at the Laclede Hotel under the guardianship of some of the teachers at the school.

WRONGFULLY CONDEMNED.

A Fugitive Bigamist Takes Poison—Fatally Stabbed—Texas Topics.

HOUSTON, Oct. 16.—It now looks as if James Gallagher, who was convicted of murdering Mrs. Brown and her son, at Fort Bend, Tex., has been wrongfully condemned. Gallagher was a wealthy and prominent citizen and is now serving a life sentence.

EL PASO, Oct. 16.—Frank Reinhart, under bail on a charge of bigamy, tried to get away yesterday. He was overhauled at Samlayaca, Mexico, by his bondsman and compelled to return as far as Juarez, where he became too ill to travel. He had taken morphine and died in the Juarez jail.

POLITICS IN ILLINOIS.

JOE CANNON THINKS HE WILL BE ELECTED BY A BIG MAJORITY.

Cullom Replies to Palmer—Soldiers' Reunions—Killed on His Wedding Day—Desperate Criminals Caught—Uniform Classification—Injunction Suit—Insanity Saved Him—A Young Lady Shot—Illinois Items.

DANVILLE, Ill., Oct. 16.—Congressman Cannon has returned home and in spite of the fact that the Democrats are out gunning for him, and some Republicans, too, he says he will be elected by the biggest majority he ever had.

"Everything," said Mr. Cannon, "looks well. No doubt many Democrats throughout the country would be pleased at my defeat. They are particularly hostile toward Messrs. Reed, McKinley and myself, because we constituted the majority of the Committee on Rules. If they could accomplish our defeat, they would say the country does not approve of our course in the last Congress. They failed on Reed. They have tried to unseat McKinley by an outrageous gerrymander, and are now waging bitter warfare on me. As far as surface indications go, I will receive the largest majority of my life this fall."

Speaking of the editors' meeting last night, he said: "Part of the same old set got together last night. The older and Simon-pure Democratic editors may get together next and adopt similar resolutions. They have adopted the Chinese method of warfare, beating gongs and rattling gourds. The election is not to be decided by them. God help the country if disappointed office-seeking editors can set individuals up and down and revolutionize parties. If they can accomplish this I miss my guess. I am willing to take my chances, as I have always done before with the Republicans of this district who are not Republicans for revenge and office."

CULLOM REPLIES TO PALMER.

FREEPORT, Ill., Oct. 16.—Senator Cullom spoke at the Opera-house to-night and replied to John M. Palmer, reviewing the history of the Republican party and going over the record of the last Congress. As to the election bill, he said the Republican party was in favor of pure elections. He also declared himself for compulsory education.

SPRAGUE—VANCE.

The Marriage of a Prominent and Wealthy Citizen of Tacoma.

MEADVILLE, Pa., Oct. 16.—Gen. John W. Sprague of Tacoma, Wash., and Mrs. A. W. Vance were married here at noon yesterday. Mrs. Vance is the sister of Gen. Sprague's first wife. The first Mrs. Sprague lived only a year, and, after long remaining a widower, he married a Miss Choates of Milan, O. She died about five years ago. A year ago the daughter of his first wife and her aunt paid a visit to the General in Tacoma. A few weeks ago the General came East to visit his daughter, Mrs. J. W. Wickham, Jr., in Huron, O. During his trip he came to Meadville and persuaded Mrs. Vance to return for a short visit to Huron with him. The wedding here was the result. Gen. Sprague was born in Troy, N. Y., where he graduated from the Rensselaer Polytechnique Academy. He came to Ohio and settled in 1845, and at the breaking out of the war raised a company in the Seventh Ohio Volunteer Infantry. He rose rapidly to the Colonelcy of the Sixty-third Ohio, was made a Major-General and a Brigadier by brevet. In 1866 he was appointed a Lieutenant-Colonel in the regular army, but preferring more active work he declined the appointment and became General Manager of the Winona (Wis.) & St. Peter Railway. In 1870 he was made General Manager of the Western Division of the Northern Pacific Railway and, with Capt. Ainsworth, located in Tacoma. In 1883 after the driving of the golden spike, he tendered his resignation to the Northern Pacific directors on account of ill health and devoted several years to building up his strength. He soon recovered and helped to organize the Tacoma Board of Trade, the Tacoma National Bank and the Tacoma Steam Navigation Co., of all of which organizations he was elected president. He has amassed a large fortune and his income is now said to be about $60,000 per annum. Mrs. Vance Sprague is the daughter of the late Judge Wright of Ohio. Her first husband was a leading attorney in New Lisbon, O. She has several children, one of whom is an attorney in New York city.

AN ACCIDENT TO AN ACTOR.

Geo. Holloway, While Doing a Ladder Act at the Grand, Has a Serious Fall.

George Holloway, who concludes the performance at the Grand Opera-house by a performance on a balanced ladder, met with an accident Tuesday night, which though not serious prevented his going through with his part of the show. Mr. Holloway balances the ladder in an upright position, then climbs up and down either side of it, keeping it balanced under him all the while. Tuesday night just as he reached the top of the ladder he lost his balance and fell into the space beside the platform on which the ladder stands. The ladder fell over on to the horizontal wire across the front of the stage.

The manager of the play made an apology to the audience for the accident and the curtain was dropped for the evening.

THE LIGHT GOES OUT.

CARONDELET RESIDENTS HAVING AN EXPERIENCE WITH POOR GAS.

The Light Ceases While a Barber Is Shaving a Man and the Man Is Cut in Consequence—The Experiences of Several People—Returning to Oil—Former Trouble.

THE dull, dim and sickly-looking gas which is being furnished to illuminate the streets, private dwellings and stores in Carondelet is becoming the source of much comment among the people who burn it. For some time past the gas has given so dim a light that the night patrolmen found it almost impossible to see to cross the streets, which are also in a most deplorable condition. Last Monday night matters took quite a serious turn. Between the hours of 6 and 7:30 o'clock the gas went out four times. The district in which this took place was on Broadway west to Minnesota avenue, and from Upton street to Krauss street. What was the real cause of the accident is unknown. The gas operators claim they do not know.

IN TOTAL DARKNESS.

Every time the gas went out it was fully fifteen minutes before it could be lit again. Those probably who were the loudest to complain are the business people on South Broadway.

Martin Reiss, a barber, doing business at 7113 south Broadway, in speaking of the incident, said: "I had an awful hard time with my gas Monday evening. I was busily engaged in shaving a man who was anxious to catch the next north-bound train for St. Louis. This was about 6:20 o'clock. After lathering his face well I proceeded to shave him. As I drew the razor over his face the light went out, causing me to cut him slightly on the chin. It was fully fifteen minutes before I could again proceed with my work. I lit the gas again and succeeded in shaving him, when again the light went out. I smelt gas escaping from the pipes, and thus attributed that a leak in the upper section of the pipe caused the gas to go out. I tried to light the jets, but it would not burn. I waited for awhile to see whether the gas would start again. Monday evening being somewhat chilly, I had the doors closed. The escape of gas became so great that in a few minutes the entire room was full of it and I came near suffocating. My boy opened the door and I in the meantime shut off the key of the gas jets. I was afraid to light another match, fearing an explosion might follow."

Louis Schrempp, who conducts a saloon and restaurant a few doors south of Mr. Reiss, told a somewhat similar experience. The gas in the pool-room adjoining the saloon went out first. Maj. Schrempp at first thought that the attendant of the room had shut off the jet, but found out later that he had not, smelling the gas escaping. A gentleman named Frey, who was taking a nap on a chair, might have been asphyxiated had it not been for Mr. Schrempp's prompt arrival in turning off the gas entirely. The gas went out four times. At Zeller's drug store they had the same trouble. Eleswhere this peculiar mode of illuminating was experienced. A rumor was circulated yesterday that a gentleman residing in the neighborhood had gone to bed about 6:30 o'clock and had lit the gas. The gas went out, and had it not been for one of the family the man would, it was said, have been suffocated to death. This story, however, could not be verified.

LOUD IN THEIR COMPLAINTS.

The citizens are loud in their complaints of this method of furnishing gas and think the trouble should receive prompt attention from the company's officials.

At the police station the same trouble was experienced. This is the third or fourth time this has occurred and the reasons of it are unknown. Persons retiring for the night leaving the gas burning ran a risk of never seeing another day.

FORMER TROUBLE.

Some three years ago the people had just such trouble. They implored, begged and petioned the company to furnish better quality of gas, but to no avail. Finally, the consumers resolved to quit the gas and in its stead use oil. This was so effectively carried out that the company rectified the wrong and good gas was given. This, however, lasted but for a brief time. The consumers seeing that their begging and petitions were fruitless called on the Mayor and explained to him how the gas company was furnishing gas. The company was fined $500. It is now as bad as ever, and at times worse. The people are really afraid to burn it at night thinking that perhaps while asleep it will go out and then leak, suffocating them. There is considerable talk of burning oil instead of gas. The consumers are obliged to pay $2.50 per 1,000 cubic feet. It is now the cry among many consumers that unless better quality of gas is furnished they will absolutely refuse to burn any more of it. As it is over one-half of the people use lamps instead of gas which is due to the recent trouble.

A CLOGGED COURT.

THE AMENDMENT PROPOSED FOR THE RELIEF OF THE SUPREME TRIBUNAL.

The Necessity for a Change Evidenced by the Fact That the Court Is Now 850 Cases Behind—An Increase in the Court of Two Judges—The Amendment.

THE lawyers of the State are very much interested in the proposed constitutional amendment which is to be voted on at the next election and they are endeavoring very earnestly to make the voters realize that they have or ought to have a far deeper interest in the amendment than the gentlemen of the law. The amendment proposes to relieve the Supreme Court by increasing its size and making two divisions, one to have charge of the civil and the other of the criminal cases, though the Supreme Court as a whole will act in all cases where there is a dissenting opinion in either of the decisions. The purpose of this amendment is to enable the Supreme Court to catch up with its work and to shorten the time required for the disposition of cases.

BADLY IN ARREARS.

The court is now in arrears on its docket 850 cases. When a cause has been appealed it takes about two and a half years to reach it in regular course on the Supreme Court docket. If a new trial is awarded, six months at least will intervene before a second verdict can be had, and in case of a second appeal, which is not unusual—in fact, the Supreme Court has now before it a criminal case which it is hearing for the fourth time—two and a half years more will elapse before a second decision can be had in the Supreme Court. Thus over five years will have elapsed between the first appeal and the second decision. The Supreme Court cannot catch up with its docket and thus afford the necessary relief unless its working power is in some way increased. The docket is gaining about thirty-four cases on the court each year, and the time required to secure a decision from that tribunal is growing longer and longer. Unless measures for its relief are adopted it will in not many years rival the Chancery courts, and litigants who appeal to the courts for their just rights may live and die and leave a lawsuit as an inheritance to their children.

THE AMENDMENT.

The amendment which is proposed is as follows:

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring therein,

That at the general election to be held on the Tuesday next following the first Monday in November, A. D. 1890, the following amendment to the Constitution of Missouri, concerning the judicial department, shall be submitted to the qualified voters of said State, to wit:

Sec. 1. The Supreme Court shall consist of seven judges, and, after the first Monday in January, 1891, shall be divided into two divisions, as follows: One division to consist of four judges of the court, and to be known as division No. 1, the other to consist of the remaining judges, and to be known as division No. 2. The divisions shall sit separately for the hearing and disposition of causes and matters pertaining thereto, and shall have concurrent jurisdiction of all matters and causes in the Supreme Court, except that division No. 2 shall have exclusive cognizance of all criminal cases pending in said court, provided that a cause therein may be transferred to the court as provided in sec. 4 of this amendment. The division of business of which said divisions have concurrent jurisdiction shall be made as the Supreme Court may determine. A majority of the judges of a division shall constitute a quorum thereof, and all orders, judgments and decrees of either division, as to causes and matters pending before it, shall have the force and effect of those of the court.

Sec. 2. Upon the adoption of this amendment the Governor shall appoint two additional judges of the Supreme Court, who shall hold their offices until the first Monday in January, 1893, and at the general election in the year 1892 their successors shall be elected, who shall hold their offices for the term of ten years, as other judges of the Supreme Court. The two judges appointed by the Governor, together with the judge elected at the general election in the year 1890, shall constitute division No. 2, and the remaining judges shall constitute division No. 1. The court shall elect its Chief Justice and each division a Presiding Judge thereof.

Sec. 3. The Supreme Court shall assign to each division the causes and matters to be heard by it, of which assignment due public notice shall be given; and all laws relating to practice in the Supreme Court, as well as the rules of the Supreme Court, shall apply to each division, so far as they may be applicable thereto. The opinion of each division shall be in writing, and shall be filed in the causes in which they shall be respectively made during the term at which the cause is submitted, and such opinions shall be a part of the records of the Supreme Court. Each division shall have authority to issue the original writs and exercise the powers enumerated in sec. 3 of art. 6 of the Constitution.

Sec. 4. When the judges of a division are equally divided in opinion in a cause, or where a judge of a division dissents from the opinion therein, or where a federal question is involved, the cause, on the application of the losing party, shall be transferred to the court for its decision; or where a division in which a cause is pending shall so order, the cause shall be transferred to the court for its decision.

Sec. 5. Whenever, in the opinion of the Supreme Court, the state of its docket with reference to the speedy disposition of the business of the court will justify dispensing with the divisions hereinbefore provided, the court shall dispense therewith, and the court shall thereafter hear and determine all causes pending in it: Provided, however, that the court shall have the power to again divide itself into two divisions, in like manner and with like power and effect as hereinbefore provided, whenever, in the opinion of six judges thereof, entered of record, the condition of its docket with reference to the speedy disposition of the business of the court shall so require; and in such divisions the four judges oldest in commission shall constitute division No. 1, the remaining judges division No. 2.

Sec. 6. All provisions of the Constitution of the State and all laws thereof not consistent with this amendment shall, upon its adoption, be forever rescinded and of no effect.

APPROVED BY THE BAR.

The Constitution provides: "That courts of justice shall be open to every person, and certain remedy afforded to every injury to person, property or character, and that right and justice should be administered without sale, denial or delay." Under the present condition of affairs the above constitutional guaranty is a dead letter; the proposed amendment will revivify it, and for that reason if for none other, should be adopted.

The amendment has, at the last two annual meetings, received the sanction and approval of the State Bar Association, which includes in its membership many of the best legal minds of the State, of both political parties. This fact, while not a controlling one, is not without weight in considering the merits of the proposed amendment.

SHE USED A HEAVY CANE.

HOW A JILTED GIRL PUNISHED HER LOVER FOR HIS FICKLENESS.

Miss Eva Wise Assaults Charles J. Noble—The Engagement Between the Couple Broken Off by the Mercenary Lover, Who Transfers His Affections to a Fascinating Young Widow—Mechanicsville's Sensation.

MECHANICSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 16.—While the worshipers at a religious meeting were returning home Tuesday evening, a lady, heavily veiled, excitedly rushed through the crowd, and upon reaching the opposite corner, approached a young man who was engaged in conversation with a woman. She knocked him down with a heavy cane and began to beat him in an unmerciful manner with a cowhide, at the same time exclaiming: "I waited and watched for this."

It was with considerable difficulty that she was forced to desist.

The principals in the affair were Miss Eva Wise, a resident of Barrys, four miles from here, and Chas. J. Noble, a former lover whose fickleness it is alleged prompted the assault. The third party was a Mrs. Walters, a widow. The greatest excitement prevailed, and while the victim, bleeding and unconscious, was being carried into a house near by, his assailant coolly and triumphantly walked away. Two years ago Noble came to Barrys. He dressed with great taste, was extremely corteous, refined and educated, made hosts of friends, and soon obtained a clerical position in the store of Henry Wise. Wise was reputed to be wealthy, and the fair Eva, accomplished and graceful, fell desperately

IN LOVE WITH THE CLERK.

After a courtship of about six months, her parents approved of a union between them, and a date was set for their wedding. Noble's friends warmly congratulated him on securing the amiable and charming young heiress for his wife. Meanwhile, the prospective father-in-law met with reverses in speculation and to the surprise of every one was finally sold out by his creditors. Noble was keenly disappointed at this sudden turn of affairs and his love for the fair Eva began to wane, and on the eve of their wedding he sent word to her that he had just received a telegram from Louisville, Ky., announcing the death of his mother, and that he was already on his way to that place. He promised to return immediately after his mother's interment and kept his promise. Invitations had long since been sent out and friends came many miles to witness the ceremony. In fact, everything was complete for the wedding next day. This abrupt notice of his absence was, therefore, a crushing blow to the girl. Her friends were indignant. Eva became hysterical and openly asserted that it was not his mother's demise but her father's misfortune that

DROVE HIM AWAY.

"If this proves to be true," she exclaimed, "I am capable of resenting the great wrong, and I will do it."

The more conservative members of the family interfered and said it was too early to pass such judgment and thus succeeded in calming her. It was, however, obvious to all that Noble's sudden departure was to avoid marrying, and that he would never return to claim her. Prior to his engagement with Miss Wise, it is now said, Noble paid his attentions to Mrs. Walters, a wealthy young widow residing here. It was also stated that a renewal of the intimacy had taken place and that a correspondence had already begun between them and he had never gone to Louisville. When this information reached Miss Wise she determined to make his first visit to Mechanicsville unpleasant. The young widow's house was put under espionage, and further developments awaited. Eight months passed by, but the young man failed to appear. His duplicity and Eva's disappointment had already been forgotten, when Tuesday morning Noble quietly came to town and went direct to Mrs. Walters' residence. A series of religious meetings were being held here, to which Mrs. Walters was a constant attendant. Miss Wise was notified of Noble's presence with the widow, and determined to punish him. The assault was the result.

Attention! Attention! Attention!

Arrival of Moses, the Prophet.

Don't fail to see Prof. Bert Reese, or better known as Moses the Prophet, now on tour round the world, who has the reputation all over the globe for his accurate reading of the past, present and future. Prof. Reese was in this city two years ago and the wonderful test he has given to the most prominent business and professional gentlemen, and they all united in saying his powers are marvelous. Prof. Reese wishes now to announce to the public he is the only mind and faith reader who will give each person desiring a sitting, a free test knowing his own power he can do. Now after you have been humbugged to your heart's content by many pretended mediums, fortune tellers, etc., come and see the professor, who will not take any pay in advance. If you are not perfectly satisfied no pay expected. Can be consulted on all affairs of life, no matter what trouble; come and he will gladden you up. There is no need for anybody to be unhappy when Prof. Reese is here. He will not make you any charges until the result is such as you demand. He will give you the name of gentleman you love, and whom you are to marry. A trial will convince the most skeptical. Come one, come all. Office hours from 9 a. m. until 8 p. m., at 1104 Chouteau av.

References: Cincinnati "Enquirer"—"He is the devil in disguise." Chicago "Herald"—"The wonderful seances held by Prof. Reese are marvels and the question arises all over, 'Where does he get his powers? He is a puzzler.'" Boston "Republican"—"He beats the world." San Francisco "Chronicle"—"To Prof. Reese the Golden Gate City is always welcome. Come old boy, again." 74

HOW RILEY WAS RIDDEN.

INSTRUCTIONS TO JOCKEY TAYLOR IN THE RILEY-TOURNAMENT RACE.

The Remarkable Frigidity of Turfman Haggin—Sullivan Will Not Desert the Drama—The Champion Trotting Record Track—Base Ball Games Yesterday—Sporting News.

GREEN B. MORRIS was giving George Taylor instructions in one of the paddock stalls the other day, says the Cincinnati Enquirer. Several dusky grooms were preparing Riley for his race, and this is what the on-lookers heard: "Pick out the dry spots and lay away from the rail about ten feet. That black horse Tournament will go out like a quarter-horse, but don't attempt to race with him.

"Reserve the horse, and when you want to call on him just chirrup and speak to him. Don't spur nor whip, but just let him go along easily for a mile and then set sail."

Taylor listened attentively, and followed instructions implicitly. Tournament went out at once, and at the end of a half mile was rating along half a dozen lengths before his field. Taylor had Riley ahead of the others, and was going easily. At the end of a mile he sent his mount up to Tournament's saddle, and there he hung till the top of the hill was reached.

It was seen then that Hayward was vigorously riding Tournament, and the cry went up that he was beaten. So it proved. Turning into the stretch Riley passed Tournament without an effort, and just galloped along to the finish. Riley pulled up freshest of any, and will be hard to beat from now on.

J. B. Haggin was born with a bitter sneer on his face. He is the most preternaturally solemn millionaire on earth. It may be, and doubtless is to a certain extent, due to his Turkish ancestry; but there is no doubt about the existence of the sneer. A frivolous young society man said the other day to a member of the great horseman's family:

"Mr. Haggin is a charming man, but somehow he always makes me feel as if I had to turn up my coat-collar when I come near him. The thermometer reaches just 10 deg. below zero anywhere within the radius of twenty feet of him. When he looks at a man it is as though he was saying to himself: My Gawd, is that man still alive?'" This expression of Mr. Haggin's is purely superficial, undoubtedly. There is no more popular man on the turf than the taciturn and reserved Californian. His colors are followed with absolute confidence, and he is the only man, with the exception of Mr. Withers, whom trainers and jockeys never attempt to deceive.

RACING.

AT LATONIA.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 16.—The races at Latonia yesterday resulted as follows: In the first race, four furlongs, Carmen led at the start, Villain at the three-quarters and Teresina in the stretch, but near the wire Little Midget came up and won easily by two lengths from Willow, with the favorite, Caprice, close up, third. Time, :50½.

In the second race, one mile and twenty yards, Robbin ran first to the half, but was soon after headed by Pickup, who continued in the lead until well down the stretch. Just before the wire was reached, Argenta and Robin came up under a drive and made a fight against Pickup for the victory, but Pickup succeeded in winning by a short head, while Argenta was a nose in front of Robin, third. Time, 1:43½.

The third race, one mile, finished Polemus, Aunt Kate and Ten Like. Time, 1:45¾.

In the fourth race, one and one-sixteenth miles, Josie M. led when the flag fell, but Flitaway led at the stand. Meadowbrook next obtained the lead and kept it until in the stretch. Carter B. then came out and won, Princess Anne second on the outside and Meadowbrook third. Time, 1:50½.

In the fifth race, five furlongs, finished Mabelle, Longleaf, Laura Agnes. Time, 1:02½.

In the sixth race Belle of Springfield was first away, but in the stretch Woodbena came out, winning by a nose; Lee S., second; Mattie Allen, third. Time, :50.

AT MORRIS PARK.

MORRIS PARK, Oct. 16.—The seven events of yesterday terminated as follows:

First race, five furlongs—Elmstone was the first at the start, followed by Madstone, Reilly and Eclipse. They ran in this order to the quarter, where Madstone took the lead, and, holding it to the end, won by four lengths from Eclipse, who beat Reilly five lengths for the place. Time, 1:01¾.

Second race, six furlongs—Bradford took the lead at the quarter and looked all over a winner, but Annie came again and in a good finish won by a half length from Bradford, who beat Lakeview two lengths for the place. Time, 1:15¾.

Third race, one and one-sixteenth miles—Punster, Jr., at once went to the front and showed the way for a quarter, when he gave way to Rosette, who set the pace to the turn for home. There she gave way to St. James, who won by a short head from Punster, Jr., who beat Insight a length for the place. Time, 1:57.

Fourth race, one mile—This race furnished Parametta, Masterlode, Benedictine. Time, 1:48.

Fifth race, one and one-fourth miles—The order was Diabolo, My Fellow, Eurus. Time, 2:17½.

Sixth race, six furlongs—In this race Kirkover and Terrifier ran neck and neck for a half mile, then Kirkover drew away and won easily by a length, while Terrifier beat Monterey five lengths for place. Time, 1:16¾.

Seventh race, one and one-sixteenth miles—Can Can distanced Eleve from the start, finishing in 1:50.

Trotting Record Track.

From the Rural World.

Up to the present time the track at Cleveland holds more champion records than any other, though to Washington Park belongs the honor of the fastest mile in harness, as it was at Chicago that Johnston paced in 2:06¼, his best mile at Cleveland being in 2:06½, made last year. During the Grand Circuit meeting at the Ohio city this year the two notable events were the new race record of 2:11½, made by Adonis in the free-for-all pace, and the even more remarkable performance of Dallas, who equaled that time two days later. It is also worthy of note that but for a slip at the last moment, Hal Pointer would have beaten Adonis in that memorable finish and thus kept the honor of the best mile in a contest between horses for his sire, Tom Hal, whose speedy son, Little Brown Jug, had previously held the race record. The famous Tennessee stallion, who has been the greatest sire of pacers, having got Brown Hal, besides the two geldings named, has a formidable rival in Sidney, the sire of Adonis, and several other nimble-footed performers [illegible] lateral gait, the chestnut mare, Gold Leaf, being the fastest of the records.

California Trotting.

NAPA, Cal., Oct. 16.—In the races yesterday Winstow won the second heat in the pacing race in 2:15; Princess Atico, second.

Winstow took the third heat in 2:19½; Gold Medal, second; and also won the last heat and race under a strong pull.

The match race between Sidney Ray and Almoner was won by Almoner in 2:33¾ and 2:31¼.

Margaret S. had a walk-over in the 4-year-old race, and was simply jogged around the track. The Palo Alto mare, Laura C., was driven to beat her record of 2:29¼ and made it in 2:29½.

Sullivan Wedded to the Drama.

When John L. Sullivan, actor, rested from his oratorical labor and posings in the first act of "Honest Hearts and Willing Hands" last night a reporter for the Chicago Herald greeted him with the query: "Will you fight the winner of the Slavin-Jackson fight for $35,000?

"I'll fight nobody. I'm not in that business. That goes. See?"

"But Arthur Lumley said in New York today that you would fight the winner of that battle for a purse of $25,000 and a side bet of $10,000?"

"Well, I don't know anything about it. I am under contract with this show for the season, which ends in June. I have already signed a contract to go to Australia with the company in July. You can see I have no time to fight or get ready to fight this year, even if I were disposed to go into the ring again. This business is good enough for me; but let me see that telegram. Jackson or Slavin, eh!"

John L.'s sporting blood here began to assert itself, and laying aside his Delsarte movements he walked about his narrow quarters with something of his old time pugilistic stride.

"Twenty-five thousand dollars straight and $10,000 on the side! What do you think of that, 'Dunc,'" he said, addressing Duncan Harrison. "Oh, what a snap!" he continued. "Just a little gallop before breakfast. Why, my boy, it would be just a little chore for me to do up either of them blokes without any serious training. But, ah me," he sighed, as the actor's blood began to stir in his veins, "I'm not in it any more. Fighting is only a memory; but, alas! as 'Dunc' says, I'd just like to have a five-round go at one of them fellows, just to wake me up. But no, I am a fighter no more. I have higher aspirations, and I'm catching on so beautifully that I'm tickled to death with myself. Just say, no one in New York or anywhere else had a right to talk fight for me. I won't fight anybody for fun nor for money. I'm an actor from this out."

A Cricket Meeting.

There will be a meeting at 8 p. m. to-morrow of all admirers of the game of cricket at No. 115 North Sixth street, having in view the organization of a cricket club for this city. As there is plenty of good material here for such a club, St. Louis ought to be able to organize one equal to any in the United States. Chicago has six clubs, and as the English population of this city equals theirs, St. Louis should be able to form a team that can beat any of their six. The promoters of the move have now thirty-five cricketers on their list that have promised to attend the meeting this evening.

BASE BALL.

THE HOME GAME.

The Brooklyns beat the Browns yesterday on the home grounds, and left last night for Louisville. The Browns led in the first inning, but after the third the visitors continued to score up runs one at a time, with the following results:

Innings—	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
St. Louis	3	0	0	2	0	0	2	0	0	—7
Brooklyn	0	1	1	2	0	1	1	0	3	—9

Earned runs—St. Louis, 3; Brooklyn, 3. Two-base hits—Gerhardt, Terry, Collins, Clarke. Home run — Burnes. Double play—Miller to Duffee. Bases on balls—Off Foutz, 3; off Neal, 3. Struck out—By Foutz, 8; by Neal, 5. Passed balls—Clarke. Wild pitches—Neal, 2; Foutz, 1. Time—Two hours. Umpire—McQuaid.

BALTIMORE WINS TWO GAMES.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 16.—The base ball season here closed yesterday with two games with Rochester. Baltimore won both by scores of 16 to 11 and 9 to 5.

BOSTON, 3; NEW YORK, 2.

MERIDEN, Conn., Oct. 16.—The Players' League exhibition game here yesterday resulted in 3 for Boston, 2 for New York, Boston winning in the ninth.

CINCINNATI, 3; CHICAGO, 1.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 16.—The home team defeated Chicago yesterday by a score of 3 to 1.

BASE BALL NOTES.

At Kansas City, Mo., yesterday Richard Higham, formerly catcher for the Chicagos, was horsewhipped by Mrs. Fred Allen, who charges him with circulating false reports.

The Chicago Tribune says the make-up of Comiskey's team next year will be as follows: Farrell, Boyle and Darling, catchers; King, Baldwin, probably Duyer, and a man yet to be secured, pitchers; Comiskey, Pfeffer and Lyons on the bases; McCarthy, Ryan and Duffy in the field. The position of shortstop is yet a matter of doubt. Shugart may or may not play there. If he does not he will be retained as a utility man, Bastian being sent to some other club.

Radbourn's Record.

With the exception of Jimmy Galvin of Pittsburg, there is no pitcher in the country who has been anything like the number of years in the box that Radbourn of the Boston Players' League team has. It has been eleven years since Radbourn made his debut as a National League pitcher and he has ever since ranked as one of the greatest pitchers in the country. For several seasons he was considered the champion twirler and is certainly one of the most remarkable men who ever entered a box. The Boston Globe prints the following sketch of him:

Charles Radbourn was born in Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 9, 1853. He stands 5 feet 9 inches and scales 168 pounds. "Rad" made his first appearance as a pitcher with the Peoria (Ill.) club in 1878. The following season he pitched for the Dubuque (Io.) club. In 1880 he joined the Buffalo League nine, but after pitching four games was laid off with a sore arm, being unable to play the balance of the season. In 1881 he joined the Providence Club and pitched for them five seasons. Aug. 17, 1882, at Providence, he pitched against the Detroit Club, when each club was blanked for 17 innings, and it was not until the 18th inning that the deciding run came in. In the last half of that inning Radbourn went to the bat and made a home run, thus making the score 1 to 0 in favor of the Providence club. It was the most remarkable game in the history of the League. In 1884 he was instrumental in winning the pennant for his club after a hard season's work, pitching more games than any other League pitcher during the season. When the Providence franchise was purchased by four League clubs A. H. Soden, President of the Boston club, secured "Rad" through the "deal." "Rad" was a member of the Boston League team up to this season, when, as everybody knows, he went with the Players' League team, and has done marvelous work. He has regained his old Providence form, and the press of all cities join in his praise. He is the "king pitcher of 1890," and every time he has stepped out in front of the Congress street crowd he has been cheered to the echo.

Cincinnati and Chicago.

Capt. Comiskey and his famous Chicago White Stockings arrived in the city this morning from Cincinnati. They were accompanied by the Cincinnati Reds in charge of Loftus. They play exhibition games to-day, to-morrow and Saturday at Brotherhood Park. The games will be a fair criterion of the relative strength of the Brotherhood and National League. The Cincinnati Reds have not been seen here since last year. They come this time captained by Chris Von der Ahe's old pet, Arlie Latham. Arlie is here with them. He will play to-day. Among the other old time favorites whom St. Louisians delight to see are long John Reilly, Biddy McPhee, Bug Holliday, Jim Keenan and Tony Mullane. Their acquisitions who have materially helped Cincinnati this year, are Billy Harrington and Rhines. They will officiate in one of the games here.

Loftus on the Situation.

Manager Loftus, who is about as successful a manager as there is in the country, is at the Lindell with the Cincinnatis. He was asked his opinion about the base ball situation as at present constituted. He said: "The quicker the hatchet is buried the better will it be for the future welfare of the national game. There is no gainsaying the fact that the Brotherhood officials have shown diplomacy, tact and shrewd business methods in handling their affairs this season, and their coup d'etat in winning Cincinnati was the straw that literally broke the camel's back in the League territory. Naturally after losing so strong a factor in their make-up, the League magnates want to confer with the people who evidently hold the winning cards. A conference therefore is a good thing all around. It will result in a restoration of the game to a basis oven more substantial than ever before known in its history. The Brotherhood will have the say as to naming the new organization. It will have a grand circuit, with one old-time New York Giants, one Brooklyn club, one Cincinnati club, the leading team in Boston, and by far the best of it in Philadelphia and Chicago. Pride must give way to good business sense in the solution of the present problematic state of affairs, and the season of 1891 will, no doubt, see the game flourish and prosper as never before known in its history."

Base Ball Notes.

Biddy McPhee of the Cincinnatis is a great favorite in St. Louis. He is one of the most gentlemanly and popular men in the profession.

Capt. Charles Comiskey and Mike Kelly will take two professional teams to the Pacific Coast this winter. They start from St. Louis the latter part of this month.

A contract was closed yesterday at Cincinnati with the boss score-card man of America, Harry Stevens, to go with the Comiskey-Kelly Combination to the Pacific Coast this winter.

Darby O'Brien, Dave Foutz, Biddy McPhee, Pat Tebeau, Jack Crooks, Mike Griffin, Jerry Harrington, Harry Stovey, Mike Kelly will be members of the Comiskey-Kelly Combination this winter.

The three games between the Cincinnati Reds and the Chicago White Stockings should draw big crowds. Their exhibitions are marked by all the skill and snap of championship contests.

Only $3 to Cincinnati and return on th Ohio & Mississippi Railway.

POOR LITTLE WAIF!

After Eight Years of Intense Suffering Death Relieves Him.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—After living in pain for eight years an unfortunate waif of 10 years died two days ago in the St. Barnabas Hospital, Newark, and will be buried in the Orphans' plot at Mount Pleasant Cemetery today. The child was found when 2 years of age lying at the foot of the embankment on which the tracks of the Pennsylvania road are laid. It was wrapped up in a bundle of rags and lay close to the river at the Market street bridge. The child had evidently been thrown from a train by some unnatural creature with the intention of casting him into the river. The boy was taken to police headquarters and a medical examination made. It was found that the child's spine had received an injury that was incurable. He was sent to the alms house and from there was sent to a hospital. In spite of his injuries the waif continued to live, although always in pain. Medical treatment was given the injured spine at intervals, which proved beneficial. After being carried back and forth from the hospital to the almshouse for months the poor child was given a home in the Newark Orphans' Asylum. He was treated with tender care and developed into a most intelligent boy as he grew older. His infirmity won him the pity of every one and he became the pet of the institution. He was named John Smith Roads after Mrs. Morgan Smith, who first befriended him, and the place where he was found. Despite all the care and skill lavished upon him, the poor little boy gradually gave way until Monday last, when he died of sheer exhaustion. The parents of the child or the cowardly perpetrator of the crime that led to his life of misery were never discovered.

A NICE SCHEME.

The Project for New York's Exhibit at the World's Fair.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 16.—A project for making the New York State exhibit at the World's Fair a prominent feature is suggested by John Boyd Thacher of this city, one of the National Commissioners. Instead of appropriating $20,000 for the usual temporary structure to be erected by each State, he recommends that the State appropriate enough to erect a building that shall not only be a credit to the Empire State during the Fair, but shall remain as a monument to the enterprise of New Yorkers for all time. If the State will aid the scheme financially no difficulty will be experienced in securing a good site and plenty of assistance from New Yorkers now living in Chicago. There is a society in that city known as the Sons of New York, with a membership of over 500, which is ready to help the project as soon as some definite action is taken. Mr. Thacher thinks that in case the State decides to build such a structure, an admirable site in one of the parks will be given, either by the city of Chicago or the Sons of New York. At the close of the Fair he proposes that the building be turned over to the society to be used as a general headquarters for New Yorkers visiting Chicago, the society to maintain the establishment and entertain the guests.

ALL WANT PENSIONS.

MORRIS JACKS KEPT BUSY WAITING ON PENSION APPLICANTS.

Nearly 800 Death Certificates Issued to Them Since July 1—Arsenal Island to Be Leased to the Son of the Old Tenant of the Island—Municipal Matters.

Mrs. Josephine Koelmele of New Orleans was a visitor at Health Commissioner Dudley's office this morning, and Mr. Jacks, the record clerk, furnished her with a certificate of the death of her husband, Mathias Koelmele, who was drowned in a fermenting vat on the corner of Second and Cedar streets, Jan. 29, 1875. Mr. Koelmele was trumpeter of the First Missouri Artillery, and Mrs. Koelmele says that she has applied for a pension and for that reason wants a certificate of her husband's death. The original burial certificate was signed by Dr. Dudley, who was then Coroner of St. Louis City and County. Mrs. Koelmele is also anxious to obtain evidence of her marriage to Mathias Koelmele, but finds that more difficult, as marriage licenses were not required in this State at that time and no official record was kept of marriages. Justice Block, who performed the ceremony in 1862, has since died and Mrs. Koelmele has forgotten the names of the witnesses.

Mr. Jacks' books show that since the 1st of last July he has issued 791 certificates of death and he says that with scarcely an exception the certificates were wanted for the purpose of establishing pension claims.

Arsenal Island.

Ben Seeger, the city's oldest tenant, died a couple of weeks ago and Arsenal Island is to be re-leased to his son. Ben lived on the island about a quarter of a century, paying only a nominal rent—$5 a year—for the land. He built him a cabin there and cultivated some forty acres or more of the ground, raising vegetables and wheat, and corn, and a little of everything. He also raised quite a family of children, but upon the death of his wife, the children moved to the city and the old man was left the only inhabitant of Arsenal Island. Recently, however, one of the sons returned to nurse him in his last sickness, and it is to this son that the island will now be leased. The old man was a sort of watchman for the city, protecting the island from marauders, keeping away timber thieves and preventing other thieves from making a hiding place of the island. He was also employed by the United States Government to look after the river lights on the island.

Since the cholera epidemic of 1865-6, when the Health Department made a burying ground of the island, it has been of little or no use to the city and when the United States Government connected it by a dyke with the Illinois shore some fourteen years ago, the city lost its title to the island, or at least so the United States Circuit Court has decided in two instances. Edward Rutz, ex-State Treasurer of Illinois, owned a piece of land on the Illinois shore opposite the head of the island and claimed that portion of the island as soon as the dyke was finished and the current of the river turned to the Missouri side. The city resisted the claim, and Rutz brought suit. The case was tried first in one Federal court and then in another, the city losing both times, only, however, to appeal to the United States Supreme Court. The Rutz case is still pending before the highest tribunal, but the owners of the rest of the land fronting the river on the Illinois side opposite Arsenal Island, encouraged by Rutz' success, have also brought suit for possession and if Rutz wins in the Supreme Court all these other claimants will probably win too. The island contains about 400 acres, and is gradually moving down stream, or was before the dyke was built. An effort was made some ten or twelve years ago to establish a pleasure resort there, a beer garden or something of that kind, but the litigation frightened the promoters of the enterprise away.

Looking Forward.

The Lindell Railway Co. seems determined to obtain another extension of its franchise. One extension to run until 1914 was granted only last year, and at the last session of the Municipal Assembly an effort was made to secure fifty additional years, but the bill was allowed to die with the session in the hands of the committee. The new bill, which was introduced at the last meeting of the Council by Mr. Vogel at the request of the company and which will be referred to the Committee on Railroads to-morrow night, provides for an extension of the company's franchise to the year 1964, and the only requirement from the company is that it pays the city $3,000 a year during the fifty years of the extension, said sum to be "in addition to all taxes and licenses and payments of every description now legally imposed on said company by existing ordinances." Whether under this bill, as it now reads, a repeal of the present existing ordinances, under which the company now pays car and ad valorum taxes, would absolve the company from liability to similar taxes thereafter or not would be a question for the lawyers and the courts to decide, but in all probability the wording will be so changed, if the bill is seriously considered, as to give the company no such loophole of escape from the taxation imposed upon other street railway companies.

The main line of the Lindell Railway Co. was recently extended from Vandeventer avenue to Forest Park in one direction and to Hodiamont in another. The branches separate on Fairfax and Taylor avenues, one running north on Taylor to Page avenue and the other south to Delmar avenue. The Page avenue branch runs thence west to Hamilton avenue, within a couple of blocks of the western city limits and the Delmar avenue branch runs west to De Baliviere avenue and then south to Forest Park. The Fourteenth street line, which belongs to the same company, was also recently extended out Chouteau avenue to Forest Park.

Another bill which will be referred to-morrow night to the Council Committee on Railroads, is one authorizing the Benton & Bellefontaine Co. to build a branch line to the Fair Grounds. The new line is to run along Grand avenue from the main entrance to the Fair Grounds, at the southeast corner of the grounds, to Florissant avenue, where it will join the main road.

Insane Asylum Statistics.

The twenty-first annual report of the Superintendent of the St. Louis Insane Asylum has just been completed and published in pamphlet form.

The report shows the following statistics of the patients admitted, received and discharged:

At the beginning of the fiscal year there were in the asylum 549 patients—206 males and 343 females. During the year 230 were admitted—123 males and 107 females, making total number under treatment 779—329 males and 450 females. Of these 91 were discharged recovered—44 males and 47 females; 20 improved—10 males and 10 females; 16 unimproved—7 males and 9 females; 8 not insane—4 males and 4 females; 41 died—10 males and 31 females; 127 were transferred to insane department of St. Louis Poor House—49 males and 78 females. Number remaining under treatment March 31, 1890, 476—205 males and 271 females. Daily average number of patients, 539 5-12—212 8-12 males and 326 9-12 females. Percentage of deaths on whole number under treatment, 5.26. Percentage of recoveries based upon the whole number treated, 11.6, and of recoveries on number admitted during the year, 39.5.

The condition of patients has been above the average, but the ever growing difficulties in the matter of room and accommodation have caused a great deal of annoyance and has been an impediment to the conduct of the institution. Dr. Atwood in his report sends his thanks to a number of persons for books, periodicals and papers sent during the year for the use of patients. A full report of all the statistics of the institution is given in tabulated form.

Another Reform Introduced.

The Board of Public Improvements will hereafter file the plats of new subdivisions with the Recorder of Deeds instead of intrusting the matter to owners of property. In several instances the plats were altered after being approved by the board and were placed on record with the Recorder in altered condition, differing, of course, with the copy retained by the board. The owner of the subdivision will be required to pay for the recording, as heretofore. The changes made in plats were mostly in the numbering of the lots, and no injury was probably intended to anyone by the owner of the property, but they would be almost certain to result in confusion and litigation when tax bills against the lots were made.

Too Much Rapid Transit.

A remonstrance against the speed made by the electric cars of the Union Depot street car lines will be presented to the City Council tomorrow night. The remonstrators claim that the cars are run at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour, whereas the company's charter limits them to a fifteen-mile-an-hour speed. The remonstrance is signed by Joseph F. Diekmann, C. Karges, C. H. Henckler, D. Schmitt, P. Jost, Casper Vielhaber, B. Brueggemann, Jr., Mrs. Kipp, Philip Beck, Wm. Butte, Chris Wissman, J. B. Eilers, Jacob Schindler, Henry Nienaber, John C. Dust, Wm. Flint, Jacob Bobb, John Abeln, H. E. Schmits, Wm. Schmits, Mathias Boll, Andrew Schmitt and Fred Freise.

Better Late Than Never.

Three new arc lights have been put up and were lighted for the first time last night. They are on Clark avenue, midway between Theresa and Grand avenues, at the intersection of Adams street and Compton avenue, and on Rutger street, midway between Ewing avenue and Joab street. These lights were ordered June 9, and it has taken the company over four months to fill the order.

City Hall Notes.

The Board of Managers of the House of Refuge was to have had a meeting this afternoon, but owing to the absence of some of the members the meeting was postponed to the next regular meeting day, Nov. 20.

J. W. Dunn, assistant in the City Auditor's office, was to-day appointed Assistant Treasurer under Mr. Foerstel. Mr. Dunn's resignation was very much regretted both by Mr. Brown and his associates in the office, but while regretting his departure they are glad that he has been given a better position.

LIFTED TO A HIGHER LEVEL.

Mrs. Mary A. Livermore on the Condition of Woman To-Day.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 16.—In an address before the conference of Baltimore Charities last night, Mrs. Mary A. Livermore said:

"The changes in the laws relating to women have been wonderful. In Massachusetts, in financial matters, the law places me on a better footing than it does my husband. The best thing about these changes, too, is that they have been wrought by men. Woman has been lifted to a higher level than I ever hoped to live to see her occupy, and it would be amazing if all these things did not bear fruit. It has borne fruit, and this conference to-day is one of them. Women are everywhere using their advantages in helping their neighbors. The power of organization is a new thing for us, for when I was a young woman it was not possible. In those days it was often said that woman was woman's worst enemy. We do not hear it now, and if it ever was true it is not now, for to-day woman is woman's truest friend. Everywhere women are building homes in which they may carry on their work of helping those less fortunate than themselves. They will carry on the work to results we cannot see now, and of which we hardly dare dream."

THE KILLING OF BARRUNDIA.

His Son-in-Law to Make a Claim Against Uncle Sam.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Senor R. Bengoechea, husband of the youngest daughter of the late Gen. Jose Maria Burrundia, arrived in this city yesterday. He comes nere to make a demand for $100,000 from the United States Government for the killing of his father-in-law. He claims that the Government is responsible, because United States Mizner induced the captain of the Pacific mail steamer to turn over Gen. Burrundia to the Guatemalan troops, and thus caused him to be murdered.

Many Clergymen,
Singers, actors, and public speakers use Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It is the favorite remedy for hoarseness and all affections of the vocal organs, throat, and lungs. As an anodyne and expectorant, the effects of this preparation are promptly realized.

"In my profession of an auctioneer, any affection of the voice or throat is a serious matter, but, at each attack, I have been relieved by a few doses of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. THE BRADY FUND.

THE SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL SOON AGGREGATE $2,000.

His Brother Officers Are Doing Well by the Widow and Children of the Gallant Policeman—Subscriptions Sent to Chief Harrigan—The Total Amount Received.

A generous contribution to the fund for the widow and orphans of Officer James Brady comes from the officers of the Third Police District, who have raised $112 for the helpless family of their brother officer. This means more than the money. These men know full well the dangers to which they are subjected, and they know, too, that any one of them may meet with the same fate at any time, when the riotous element which occupies the Third District makes one of its periodical revolts against law and order. Their contribution expresses a feeling of sympathy, which is strong and heartfelt. Brady was a brother in danger and they feel that his fate may yet be theirs; that what his family now suffers their's may have to bear, and they show their sympathy by doing what they can to aid the distressed family.

To-day the fund reached $1,500, and still the contributions are coming in. More money has been subscribed by men who are working on a salary, and it will be paid on the 1st of the month.

The following letter, which was received this morning, is very strong testimony to the justice of the appeal:

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Inclosed find $1. Turn it over to the fund for the widow of Officer Brady. I hope the citizens will appreciate the efforts of the police in breaking up the desperate gang of negro gamblers and loafers who infest the locality where the murder was committed and render it unsafe for respectable people to pass the place. I live within a stone's throw of the place, and have had my rest broken night after night during the summer months by the almost nightly brawls which have occurred there. Respectfully, MRS. S. A. FERGUSON, 1110 Washington avenue.

Mrs. Ferguson knows the danger to which the police of that district are subjected, and she knows how fearlessly they have fought with the unconvicted law-breakers, the jailbirds and ex-convicts who infest the district. Her letter is a meaning one and if any proof is needed that Officer James Brady was compelled to risk his life in the performance of his duty, here it is.

"A Friend of the Cause" left a $10 gold piece with Chief Harrigan at the Four Courts this morning for Mrs. Brady and her little ones.

Chief Harrigan this morning received information from Capt. Joyce to the effect that the officers of the Third District had subscribed $112 to the Brady fund. The money will be forwarded to headquarters this evening.

Capt. Young, commanding the Central Police District, forwarded to Chief Harrigan $16.50 this morning for the Brady fund. The contributors were "S. D. C.," per Sergt. Allen, $10; Patrick Carmody, 215 North Sixth street, $5; A. Moonschien, 104½ North Broadway, $1; Hugh Atkinson, Henderson, Ky., 50 cents.

Chief Harrigan received the following letter this morning:

Maj. L. Harrington.

DEAR MAJOR—I herewith inclose you a check for $39, representing the money sent to the office up to Tuesday for the Brady fund. Trusting that you may be very successful in this excellent cause, I am, with regards.
M. J. LOWENSTEIN.

Another was from P. P. Manion, 800 and 803 North Levee, and read as follows:

Maj. L. Harrigan:

DEAR SIR—Inclosed find check for $25, which please apply to the fund you are raising for Officer Brady's family. Wishing you much success in your worthy task, I am yours truly,
P. P. MANION.

Capt. Joyce of the Third District forwarded to Chief Harrigan this morning $2.20 for the fund, of which $2 was contributed by Adolph Helmer, Eleventh and Franklin avenue, and 50 cents by Anthony Hughes.

Mr. W. P. Samuels left $1 with Maj. Harrigan yesterday evening for the Brady fund.

Capt. Kiely commanding the Fourth District, forwarded $5 to the Four Courts yesterday afternoon, the contribution of J. K. Commings, 1103 Clinton street to the fund.

While Detective James Tracy was down town yesterday evening he was handed $5 by Wm. O'Brein and $1 by Neil Lynch to be devoted to the Brady fund.

Mayor Noonan telephoned to Capt. Fruchte at the Four Courts last night that he desired to add $25 to the Brady fund as a testimonial of his appreciation of the deceased officer's bravery and as a slight expression of the sympathy he felt for the widow and orphans so grievously afflicted.

Mr. Edward Devoy of the firm of Devoy & Feuerborn, 708 Pine street, sent $5 to Chief Harrigan at the Four Courts this morning for the Brady fund.

Another Beautiful Water Color Study for Sunday Post-Dispatch Want Advertisers.

The next picture in the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH want advertisers' water-color study art gallery is entirely different from any of its predecessors and a picture that is well worth having. The desire to get one of these pictures is very great and everybody who has seen it wants one. Now the way to get one is to put your want advertisement in the next SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH and you will have a copy of "After a Good Day's Work," which is an art gem. As will be seen by the sketch given here it is a Russian scene. The men are crossing over the snow-clad hills wrapped in their furs and leading their faithful dogs. The horse in the foreground is a fine looking animal, and the three dogs the pictures of intelligence. The landscape is hidden by the snow, and everything about the picture depicts winter. The study is a copy of a painting by a celebrated Russian artist.

Don't fail to put your "want" advertisement in the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH of Oct. 19 and get a copy of "After a Good Day's Work."

A point to remember is that by a special arrangement made by the POST-DISPATCH with Heffernan, art dealer, 1010 Olive street, a frame in any style can be obtained for these pictures at a price far below that charged elsewhere.
